KISSING NON-STOP BUT AUTO HALTS

Vienna (AP)—Kissing while driving a car usually has consequences.

In the case of a Vienna banker, who returned from one of the wine places near Vienna with a blond companion, the non-stop kissing forced his car straight into a lamp-post. The girl lost four teeth.

When the case came to court, the banker defended himself by saying that the girl began the kissing and while she had him overpowered, the accident occurred.

The court seemed to feel sorry for the poor man, sentence was suspended and the girl, who had meanwhile sued the banker for $3,000 damages, had to be satisfied with a new set of teeth.

Effort To Keep Up With Johnny Jones Diagnosed As "School Sickness" Cause

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington (AP)—The health specialists are concentrating their attention on a newly diagnosed disease which is peculiarly a product of the schools.

It is "school sickness" which recently has been definitely identified as a nerve illness brought about by "pressure" on the more or less sensitive child. Dr. James F. Rogers, consultant in hygiene of the United States office of education, says "even tuberculosis will not work such havoc with the child save in the final stages."

The disease is characterized by irritability, restlessness, anxiety and a highly emotional state. The child usually has a poor appetite, he sleeps badly and may have night terrors. The symptoms begin soon after school commences and grow worse as the term advances. They are aggravated, physicians say, by mental examinations and by athletic contests.

Illness Is Real

Dr. Rogers says that in many school systems children (no two of whom are alike even if they are twins) are expected to pass through the same courses at the same speed or be labelled "D", "dull", "retarded", or "inferior."

"The more sensitive child, who cannot keep up the pace in one or more subjects, does his utmost under the well-intended stimulus and the result is an illness as real as measles and unfortunately far more drawn out and full of misery," he said.

To prevent this disease, some health specialists have suggested that the child's report card bear only the remarks "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory." Satisfactory should mean that the child was doing as well as could be expected taking into consideration his age, mentality, health, degree of social adjustment in the school room and emotional poise.

Few Exempt

Dr. J. V. Treynor, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, credited with being the first to use the term "school sickness" in diagnosing the disease, has advocated that "the schools be rid of the one great evil, pressure."

Dr. Rogers says that while he was visiting a class for physically delicate and possibly tuberculous children in an eastern city, the special teacher informed him that the pupils were permitted to proceed in their studies "at their own pace."

This meant, he says, that only about 100 pupils out of some 75,000 in that city were wholly exempt from conditions which might produce "school sickness." He believes, furthermore, that undoubtedly some of the 100 were in the special classes because of poor nutrition produced by anxiety over school work in regular classes.

"We make much today of medical inspection but the physical defects thus disclosed are trifling in comparison with mental states which produce loss of sleep, loss of appetite, loss of weight and energy," Dr. Rogers said.

Japan's Cruisers Set Naval Pace In Battery Power

By GLENN BAER

Tokyo (AP)—The Japanese navy has introduced a new, highly destructive type of fighting ship to the world.

The 5,500-ton cruisers, Mogami and Mikuma, first of the swift and heavily-gunned B-class cruisers in the building of which Japan and the United States are competing, have joined the empire's sea forces.

These vessels, each carrying fifteen 6.1-inch rifles in five triple turrets, represent naval architects' efforts to obtain the last ounce of power, efficiency and destruction within London naval treaty limits.

Lessons In Sea Tragedy

Their armament is the maximum permitted by both the treaty and the laws of naval design.

Naval experts of other nations have expressed doubt that such heavy armament could be used with safety on such small displacement. The Japanese too had doubts after one of their torpedo-boats, the Tomosuru, carrying three 5-inch guns on only 527 tons, engaged in a storm in March, 1934, with the loss of 100 officers and men.

There was then a thorough overhaul of the designs of cruisers and destroyers under construction. In the completed Mogami and her sisters the lesson of that tragedy has been heeded.

Year Ahead of America

The addition of the Mogami and Mikuma to the fleet means Japan is more than a year ahead of the United States in ships of the classification. The American navy is building four cruisers of 10,000 tons each, also to be armed with fifteen 6-inch guns.

These are the Savannah, Macon, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, but the first of them will not be completed until late in 1936. Before then the Mogami and Mikuma will be joined by two more of their class.

In the Mogami class the Japanese builders utilize the American build to take full advantage of the London treaty's limit on displacement of 10,000 tons.

These ships were kept to 5,500 tons each, because at that figure Japan could build six vessels within the 100,000 tonnage allowed her at London for this category. She could have built only five 10,000-ton ships.

Yugoslav Submarine Sunk

Belgrade (AP)—Yugoslav government sources have been reduced to zero as an enemy submarine sank the vessel on Nov. 29, 1935.

Keeping pace with the new steps in education, Horace Mann school at Teachers College, Columbia University, has long been battling the danger of "pressure" on children. There's no evidence of "school sickness" here, where children in the first, second and third grades are seen at work at their typewriters.

YOU WILL DECIDE BY YOUR VOTE THIS TUESDAY WHETHER THE OFFICE OF COUNTY WELFARE COMMISSIONER SHALL BE A POLITICAL ONE OR WHETHER IT SHALL BE INDEPENDENT AND OPERATED IN THE INTERESTS OF THE TAXPAYERS AND THE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTY.

WILLIAM W. McELHONE

Present Commissioner of Public Welfare has served the County of Ulster as Welfare Commissioner faithfully and thoroughly knows the welfare situation in Ulster County. His administration of the office has been above reproach; it has been thorough and it has been economical.

The only fault found with Mr. McElhone has been political in nature and the argument is that the office should be used as a political party unit regardless of its other functions. Mr. McElhone doesn't agree with this.

Urged by friends who know of his fairness, his independence and his knowledge of his work, he became a candidate on a Fusion ticket and has been endorsed by the Democratic party, which party acknowledges his competency in his office and urges his re-election, as do his friends in the Republican party and those who have named him on the Fusion ticket.

He appeals to all the voters of Ulster County for a fair verdict on Election Day, assuring them that his re-election will mean the continuation of fair, impartial, independent administration of welfare work in Ulster County, and the office will continue to be operated as it should be and has been.

Threats of Floods Follow End of Drouth

The recent rains cured the drouth situation, but it was a case of out of the frying pan into the fire as rising streams threatened flood conditions.

In Orange and Sullivan counties streams were swollen after a down-pour which in 48 hours ranged from 3 1/2 inches in Middletown to 6 1/2 inches in Port Jervis. There was danger of flood at Tri-States and Route Six, near Corwin's Pond on Greenville Mountain was under two feet of water Wednesday. The Delaware and Neversink rivers rose several feet, but receded Thursday after cessation of the rain.

There were several minor rock slides along the Hawks Nest road out of Port Jervis.

MAYOR C. J. HEISELMAN OPENS MECHANICS BAZAAR

Mayor Heiseleman, with Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk, opened the bazaar of the Jr. O. U. A. M., at their rooms on Henry street Thursday evening. The mayor was given a great ovation by one of the largest assemblages to attend an affair of this kind.

The entertainment, consisting of seven big-time acts given by the Hickler Hayseers, was well received by the audience and was voted one of the best. The charming Edna Hummel and "Wild" Billy Lavelle made a decided hit in their act, "Barnacle Bill, the Sailor". This troupe of players will appear again tonight and Saturday night.

Two of the finest displays at the bazaar were those of James Rowe, Inc., showing Buster Brown shoes, and Bert Wilde, Inc., showing electrical appliances.

The mystery pig show kept everyone guessing and furnished loads of amusement. Many beautiful prizes are on display.

LOOKING FOR METEORITE THAT FELL AT MALDEN IN 1908.

John Stuart Thomson of Glen Rock, N. J., is still looking for a meteorite which he says fell at Malden, near Saugerties, in 1908, and rolled down a hill in the presence of witnesses.

Some two years ago Mr. Thomson gave a list of seven meteorites that fell in New York state. The Malden one would make No. 8.

HUNTERS MISTAKE EACH OTHER FOR A PHEASANT

Two out of town men hunting near Bloomingburgh shot each other by mistake. They were some distance apart when each saw what he thought was a pheasant in the grass and fired. Dr. Harrington of Wurtsboro removed the shot from their faces and arms.

At Bottom of Lake

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 1 (AP)—The Norwegian freighter Viator was at the bottom of Lake Huron today, rammed and sunk, Capt. G. J. Steffensen of the Viator said, by the motorship Ormidale in a dense fog. The crew of 18 was taken aboard the Ormidale, without loss of life. Capt. Steffensen, whose home port is Bergen, Norway, said that Norman Petersen, chief engineer, suffered skull and chest injuries. No other members of the crew were injured and all were taken aboard the Ormidale without panic. Petersen's condition is not serious, physicians at the General Hospital here said.

Police Guard For Walker.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—A police guard kept an eye on Jimmy Walker's hotel apartment today—just as in the days when he was mayor—while Walker and his wife rested after their tumultuous welcome home. "All I want is two nice seats on the Isle of New York," Walker replied to queries about his plans. He repeated that he is through with politics. Mrs. Walker—the former Betty Compton—also declared she would not go back to her old time profession, the stage. "Being a wife is sufficient job for a woman," she said. "I love children; that's what I want most."

Waters Receding.

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Swollen rivers and creeks receded slowly today in the Chenango valley, leaving mud and silt littered streets and considerable property damage in towns of Oxford and Norwich. The Chenango and Susquehanna rivers rose more than eight feet after three days of rain started subsiding late last night, a few hours before they were expected to reach the level attained in last July's disastrous floods. Town officials said the damage was limited chiefly to roads, streets and bridges and would total approximately $100,000.

Self-Styled Candidate.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 1 (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, share-the-wealth disciple of the late Huey P. Long, has become a self-styled Democratic candidate for president. He announced last night he would enter the April preferential primary in Georgia—the stronghold of Governor Talmadge, who also is considered a possible Democratic start. "Who knows?" mused Smith with a shrug. "I may be the next president of the United States. Stranger things have happened."

Public Debt on Edge

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—The public debt is on edge in warm dispute between the administration and its critics as the 1936 campaign approaches. Drafting next year's budget, President Roosevelt is faced by warnings from forces that any further increase in the debt would have inflationary possibilities of the most dangerous sort. The American Liberty League, formed in 1934, has urged the President to limit the debt. The President's fiscal advisers contend that another $5,000,000,000 could be added to the debt before it would be as difficult to carry as was the much smaller debt of post-war days.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

Hits Broadcasters

Speaking in New York, George H. He also charged a "pragmatic endeavor on the part of these controlling commercial broadcasters to make the federal communications commission a subservient instrument to commercial radio." State Troopers Slay Port Jervis "Bad Boy"

Port Jervis, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP).—The machine gun slaying of Ian Cameron, 30-year old Port Jervis "bad boy" was credited by state police today with bringing to an end a series of holdups, robberies and car thefts in this Pennsylvania border town.

Cameron was shot down by state police guns last night when he sought to escape from a ring of police officers thrown around a cottage near Narrowsburg where he had taken refuge. With him was Timothy Burke, 30, of Syracuse, who surrendered after Cameron was shot.
The two men had been sought for over three weeks for questioning in a series of car thefts and robberies and on two occasions made good their escape when they "shot it out" with state police who were on their trail. Darkness aided their escape each time.

Yesterday five New York State Troopers, two Pennsylvania Troopers and a deputy sheriff, surrounded the cottage and called to Cameron to surrender.

Trooper Robert Flynn said for about ten minutes all was quiet when suddenly Cameron dashed from the cottage and sprinted for a nearby river. At the top of the river bank state police bullets caught up with him and he plunged, mortally wounded, into the stream.

Sergeant Thomas Mangano, of the Liberty outpost, waded in after him and pulled his body to shore. Cameron had died almost instantly with bullet wounds in the head and abdomen.

Medals to 20 Drivers For 600,000 Miles

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 30 (Special).—Twenty motor car drivers today were presented with medals by Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, upon the completion of a 600,000 mile road test thought by many authorities to be one of the most significant in motoring history.

Never Had a Mishap

The drivers, all amateurs, received the awards for having established one of the most unique safety records in the country. Since June 3 these drivers have piloted six stock model motor cars over the roads between Trenton and New York, N. J., at an average speed of 40 miles an hour, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, without mishap. The record was made under normal motoring conditions, through towns and open country, over grade crossings and busy intersections, steep hills and sharp curves.

Each driver was submitted to an exhaustive series of tests with scientific instruments to determine his reaction time to traffic signals and other driving stimuli and in spite of the record attained were found to be no quicker than average in these vital qualities and in some cases appreciably slower.

Tense Driver Quicker

During these examinations it was found that the tense, somewhat uncomfortable driver was able to bring his car to a stop quicker and hence in less danger of having an accident than the comfortable, relaxed driver. It was found, likewise, that drivers who lunched on a heavy, substantial meal were not as quick to bring their car to a stop as those who ate sparingly on long trips.

A possible danger spot for motorists was detected in the beginning of the day's driving. According to analysis it was found that the drivers were more comfortable and relaxed in starting than they were after driving for two to four hours when they were apt to be slightly fatigued, with reaction time correspondingly slower in the morning.

Other Facts Developed

Among other facts developed were the following: Driving reactions are slower at night than during the day; reactions will show a greater "pick-up" after a rest period at night than in the day; reactions are quicker after a cup of coffee but are slower after driving for a period than if no coffee had been drunk; the average "pick-up" is greater for a ten-minute rest period after six hours of driving than it is for a thirty-minute rest period after four hours; weather affects driving reactions—drivers are sluggish in hot weather and more alert in cool weather.

Simple Safety Rules

Authorities were unwilling to draw broad conclusions until the data had been thoroughly checked and studied. They did, however, express the opinion that the chief factor in the record just established was probably the faithful and rigid adherence to simple safety rules which the sponsors of the tests insisted upon. These rules included a top speed of never more than 45 miles an hour, a distance of at least 75 feet from the car in front, diminished acceleration going downhill, a speed of not more than 30 miles an hour around open curves and not more than 20 miles an hour through towns, a complete stop before crossing a railroad track or a busy intersection and a hand signal at least a block ahead of making a turn.

Landscape Architect Talks to Kiwanis Club

The value of the services of a landscape architect in planning the erection of a home or other building or a piece of property, was amply demonstrated to members of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday noon, when Burton Davis, landscape architect, connected with Valentin Burgevin, Inc., worked out several problems before members of the club to show how the landscape may be used to full advantage when building.

Mr. Davis spent most of his time on a theoretical problem considering the erection and planning of a Hunt and Polo Club on the land back of the Burgevin greenhouse property, including the section known as Ring-Top. Mr. Davis showed the contour of the land and worked the various buildings into the setting provided by nature, to the best advantage, so that views and the atmosphere of the land would be preserved. Provision was made for the various departments connected with the club, such as traffic regulation, position of paddocks, showing ring, stables, parking facilities, club house, terraces, views, etc.

The speaker also demonstrated the placing of a house on a triangular lot, in which the contour was hilly. The lot, he explained, was not considered desirable for a residence but that after landscaping of house in relation to the surroundings, it proved to be a most desirable property.

Mr. Davis also showed the advantages of placing homes in various positions on the ordinary city lot so that the space might be used to the greatest advantage.

His address was supplemented by elaborate drawings and chalk portraits of the various problems.

President Morris Samter thanked the speaker for an instructive and interesting address, after which the club adjourned to the closing song, led by Maestro Paul Zucca, assisted at the piano by Danny Bittner.

REO PRESENTS NEW FLYING CLOUD

Streamlined beauty, big-car luxury and performance, yet inexpensive to buy and own—that's the new Reo Flying Cloud! Factory officials term it "America's Finest Six." Overall height is decreased this year, giving a lower center of gravity and added gracefulness to the free flowing lines of the complete steel body. Interiors are roomy and luxuriously appointed. Four models are available in a variety of colors.

The World

ON WHEELS

Reo's offering for 1936 is a new Flying Cloud that answers every demand for big-car luxury and comfort—a car of such distinction and character that factory officials have termed it "America's Finest Six."

Four new models, 133 inches overall, are being offered. These include the Four Door De Luxe Sedan, the Four Door Standard Sedan, the De Luxe Brougham and the Two Door Coupe. Base factory price is $795 for the Coach and up to $995 for the De Luxe Sedan.

Numerous refinements characterize the new models. Notable among these is a steel roof panel which adds greatly to the strength as well as appearance of the body. It is fully insulated for protection against heat, cold and noise, and can be replaced in case of accident. This top is so constructed as to serve as a highly efficient antenna for radio, and is insulated and fitted with a lead wire for this purpose.

With the addition of this new steel top, Reo brings to discriminating buyers all the many advantages of a complete steel body, plus such exclusive features as easy replacement, extra strength, protection against severe temperatures, and built-in radio antenna.

Announcing two new lines of cars—a new Airstream and the Airflow III, the De Soto Motor Corporation this week revealed the details of its 1936 models. The new Airstream features perfected aerodynamic styling and important engineering advances. The 1936 Airstream, a more conventionally designed car, incorporates many of the automotive innovations originally introduced with the Airflow, such as scientific weight distribution and Floating Ride. Both the Airstream and the Airstream cars have high compression motors, synchro-silent transmissions, a new overdrive transmission, rust-proof safety-steel bodies, improved hydraulic brakes, floating power and hypoid rear axles in the Airstream and Custom Airstream. The Airstream will be available in two series—the De Luxe and Custom. The cars will be offered in the following body models in these lines: Touring Sedan, Touring Brougham and Coupe, A Convertible Sedan and a Convertible Coupe will be additional features of the Custom line. Longer and lower than last year, the Airstream has a wheelbase of 117 inches. Numerous refinements of body design contribute to the long, low appearance of the car. A beautiful new rounded radiator . . . hood louvers deftly fashioned in wing-like sections torpedo type headlamps mounted on windstream brackets . . . speed-lined rear lights, all add to the smartness of the new model. The aerodynamic styling of the car is further enhanced in the Custom line by a new V-type windshield, which slants back, upward and outward, from a chromium center bar. Equipped with a Safety-steel body that has been strengthened and reinforced at many vital points, the Airstream has been made sturdier by a redesigned frame so formed that it is now 50 per cent more rigid than the preceding model. The new frame and body are joined together in such a way that each strengthens the other. New rubber insulation between frame and body effectively shuts out road noises. The 1936 Airstream models which will be available in two body types—Sedan and Coupe—include all of the original advantages of aerodynamic design, redistribution of weight and unit frame construction, plus a number of refinements and improvements designed to give the car new comfort and improved appearance.

More WPA Money Allotted Ulster County

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (P).—The state allocations board today released $5,721,439.49 for WPA projects to be taken up as soon as district directors can get the work under way.

Today's allocations brought the total for the last five days to $17,743,958.18. The board has been working night and day to clear projects in order to carry out the program to put 130,000 men to work by mid-November. The projects approved today for operation included:

Ulster County.
Shandaken: Extending Broad Street Hollow road to Greene county line, 1.8 miles, $2,815.44.
Rosendale: Construction of Oil-mat road from Whiteport to Hurley, 2 miles, $14,312.54.
Rochester: Improvement maintenance and repairs to town roads, $7,085.
Kingston: Completion of improvements to EBB road inter section project, $2,298.74.

Drivers of trucks are more careful than drivers of passenger cars in observing "Stop" signs, according to engineers of the United States Bureau of Public Roads who studied traffic in cooperation with State authorities in Rhode Island. Nearly 16 per cent of the trucks and 20 per cent of the passenger cars passed stop signs at speeds between 3 and 15 miles an hour, but only 4.5 per cent of the trucks, as compared to near-

Light Blood Cost For Manchoukuo Given by Japan

Tokyo (P).—Japanese army figures reveal a comparatively small cost in human life as the price paid for Manchoukuo.

At the end of four years of campaigning the losses since the first fighting at Mukden the night of September 18, 1931, total 2,758 killed in action, 397 dead of wounds and 7,879 wounded.

More than 70 per cent of these casualties were suffered in the campaigns of 1931, 1932 and 1933, when Mukden, Haining, Tsitsihar, Chinchow, Harbin and finally Jehol fell successively before Japanese columns.

However, losses in the never-ending campaign against Manchurian bandits have continued steadily at the rate of about 40 dead a month.

Officially the Japanese deny that they have added the Empire of Manchoukuo to the Japanese realm. Manchoukuo, they insist, has merely been freed from the Chinese yoke and given independence.

Bolivia Nationalizes Metal Mines

La Paz, Bolivia (P).—The Bolivian government has issued a decree declaring as federal property deposits of gold, silver, tin, zinc and antimony in the province of Nuffio de Chaves, Santa Cruz department.

Silks have a leading place in the resort and spring fashion picture. Varied interpretations of the peasant theme, linen-like silks, novelty wool-like constructions, and arresting treatments of prints give fresh impetus to American design collections.

To Dedicate Markers, Welcome Residents

Finch Bridge, Free House, in Springtown, the DuBois House. Following the dedication parade there will be a banquet at the Clinton Ford Pavilion, beginning at 6 o'clock. According to Henry Mollenhauer, chairman of the banquet committee, more than half of the capacity of the hall has already been reserved by former residents of the town. Addresses of welcome will be given by Supervisor Clinton G. Van Nostrand and Mayor Silas B. Roosevelt. The guest speaker at the banquet will be the Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck. Short talks will be given by Mrs. Mary Whalen Conger of Poughkeepsie, Patrick J. Foley of Staten Island, H. E. Dexter of Poughkeepsie, Raymond H. Torrey of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society. There will follow an introduction of prominent guests and group singing of old time songs led by Paul Zucca.

Saturday night will be turned over to the old timers at the get-together and reception at Firemen's Hall at nine o'clock. It is anticipated that the largest crowd ever assembled in Rosendale will be together at the reception. This affair will be entirely informal and it is here that most of the old timers will renew their old friendships. Paul Zucca will direct the dance and entertainment and also stage a floor show besides leading a songfest.

Appropriate welcome-home services will be conducted in the churches on Sunday and in the afternoon the citizens of the town will hold open house for the guests and visitors. Also on Sunday afternoon, there will be a team and dance given by a federation of women's organizations in the town at Zegel's Casino.

On Monday at 11 o'clock, special Armistice Day services will be conducted at the War Memorial by the Women's Club of Rosendale.

The committee actively engaged in arranging the celebration is as follows: E. M. Huben and Edward Brodsky, parade committee; W. Williams and W. Wiesler, publicity; H. Mollenhauer and L. Hill, banquet; E. P. Demarest, dedication, and C. R. Hotelling and J. O'Connor, reception.

The historical committee, largely responsible for the historical data on the markers, is as follows: The Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, chairman; E. L. Merritt, R. H. Torrey, C. I. LeFever, Allan S. McKendie, Miss Emma Hardenbergh, Leonard P. Clark, Mrs. Timothy Sullivan, Harry Snyder, Frank Sheeley, Mrs. K. W. Madden, Andrew J. Snyder, Charles T. Craig, D. V. Z. Bogart, Abraham Jansen, and the Hon. Frank H. LeFever.

The 27 New York state historical markers, which are the focal points of the celebration, were erected and obtained through the courtesy of Raymond H. Torrey, secretary American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society; Edward L. Merritt, secretary of the Ulster County Historical Society; New York State Historian Dr. A. C. Flick, and Col. Frederick S. Greene and Captain A. W. Brandt of the New York State Department of Public Works.

The name Rosendale first appears on a record dated 1685 in connection with Jacobus Rutsen, the first settler, to whose family Rutgers University owes its first charter. Jacobus Rutsen Hardenbergh of the same family being its first president. Many locations in the town were associated with Colonial and Revolutionary history.

During the construction of the Delaware and Hudson Canal in 1825, natural cement was discovered in this town and for many years made the region famous. Rosendale supplied cement throughout the country. The Brooklyn Bridge, the Croton Reservoir, the Statue of Liberty, Capitol and Treasury Buildings at Washington were all erected with the aid of this cement. For many years the name Rosendale was known wherever construction work was being done as the American standard for cement.

Rosendale was also an important port on the Delaware and Hudson Canal, previously constructed to provide water transportation from the coal fields of Pennsylvania to the Hudson river, and used this water route in transporting its product to the markets.

Medals to 20 Drivers For 600,000 Miles

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 30 (Special).—Twenty motor car drivers today were presented with medals by Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, upon the completion of a 600,000 mile road test thought by many authorities to be one of the most significant in motoring history.

Never Had a Mishap
The drivers, all amateurs, received the awards for having established one of the most unique safety records in the country. Since June 3 these drivers have piloted six stock model motor cars over the roads between Toms River and Midford, N. J., at an average speed of 40 miles an hour, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, without mishap.

The record was made under normal motoring conditions, through towns and open country, over grade crossings and busy intersections, steep hills and sharp curves.
Each driver was submitted to an exhaustive series of tests with scientific instruments to determine his reaction time to traffic signals and other driving stimuli and in spite of the record attained were found to be no quicker than average in these vital qualities and in some cases appreciably slower.

Tense Driver Quicker
During these examinations it was found that the tense, somewhat uncomfortable driver was able to bring his car to a stop quicker and hence in less danger of having an accident than the comfortable relaxed driver. It was found, likewise, that drivers who lunched on a heavy, substantial meal were not as quick to bring their car to a stop as those who ate sparingly on long trips.

A possible danger spot for motorists was detected in the beginning of the day's driving. According to analysis it was found that the drivers were more comfortable and relaxed in starting than they were after driving for two to four hours when they were apt to be slightly fatigued, with reaction time correspondingly slower in the morning.

Other Facts Developed
Among other facts developed were the following: Driving reactions are slower at night than during the day; reactions will show a greater "pick-up" after a rest period at night than in the day; reactions are quicker after a cup of coffee but are slower after driving for a period than if no coffee had been drunk; the average "pick-up" is greater for a ten-minute rest period after six hours of driving than it is for a thirty-minute rest period after four hours; weather affects driving reactions—drivers are sluggish in hot weather and more alert in cool weather.

Simple Safety Rules
Authorities were unwilling to draw broad conclusions until the data had been thoroughly checked and studied. They did, however, express the opinion that the chief factor in the record just established was probably the faithful and rigid adherence to simple safety rules, which the sponsors of the tests insisted upon. These rules included a top speed of never more than 45 miles an hour; a distance of at least 75 feet from the car in front; diminished acceleration going down hill; a speed of not more than 30 miles an hour around open curves and not more than 20 miles an hour through towns, a complete stop before crossing a railroad track or a busy intersection and a hand signal at least a block ahead of making a turn.

Landscape Architect Talks to Kiwanis Club

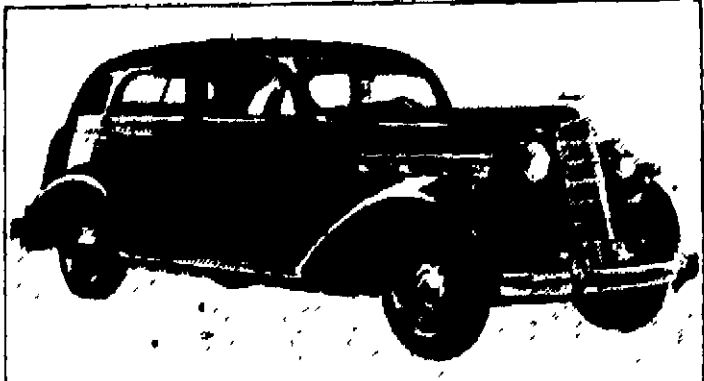

The value of the services of a landscape architect in planning the erection of a home or other building or a piece of property, was amply demonstrated to members of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday noon, when Burton Davis, landscape architect connected with Valentia Burgevin, Inc., worked out several problems before members of the club to show how the landscape may be used to full advantage when building.
Mr. Davis spent most of his time on a theoretical problem considering the erection and planning of a Hunt and Polo Club on the land back of the Burgevin greenhouse property, including the section known as Ring-Top. Mr. Davis showed the contour of the land and worked the various buildings into the setting provided by nature, to the best advantage, so that views and the atmosphere of the hunt would be preserved. Provision was made for the various departments connected with the club, such as traffic regulation, position of paddocks, showing, stables, parking facilities, club house, terraces, views, etc.

The speaker also demonstrated the placing of a house on a triangular lot, in which the contour was hilly. The lot, he explained, was not considered desirable for a residence but that after landscaping of house in relation to the surroundings, it proved to be a most desirable property. Mr. Davis also showed the advantages of placing homes in various positions on the ordinary city lot so that the space might be used to the greatest advantage.
His address was supplemented by elaborate drawings and chalk portraits of the various problems.
President Morris Samter thanked the speaker for an instructive and interesting address, after which the club adjourned to the closing song, led by Maestro Paul Zucca, assisted at the piano by Danny Bittner.

REO PRESENTS NEW FLYING CLOUD

Streamlined beauty, big-car luxury and performance, yet inexpensive to buy and own—that's the new Reo Flying Cloud! Factory officials term it "America's Finest Six." Overall height is decreased this year, giving a lower center of gravity and added gracefulness to the free flowing lines of the complete steel body. Interiors are roomy and luxuriously appointed. Four models are available in a variety of colors.

The World

Reo's offering for 1936 is a new Flying Cloud that answers every demand for big-car luxury and comfort—a car of such distinction and character that factory officials have termed it "America's Finest Six."

Four new models, 133 inches overall, are being offered. These include the Four Door De Luxe Sedan, the Four Door Standard Sedan, the De Luxe Brougham and the Two Door Coupe. Base factory price is $795 for the Coach and up to $895 for the De Luxe Sedan.

Numerous refinements characterize the new models. Notable among these is a steel roof panel which adds greatly to the strength as well as appearance of the body. It is fully insulated for protection against heat, cold and noise, and can be replaced in case of accident. This top is so constructed as to serve as a highly efficient antenna for radio, and is insulated and fitted with lead wire for this purpose. With the addition of this new steel top, Reo brings to discriminating buyers all the many advantages of a complete steel body, plus such exclusive features as easy replacement, extra strength, protection against severe temperatures, and built-in radio antenna.

Announcing two new lines of cars—a new Airstream and the Airflow III, the De Soto Motor Corporation this week revealed the details of its 1936 models. The new Airstream features perfected aerodynamic styling and important engineering advances. The 1936 Airstream, a more conventionally designed car, incorporates many of the automotive innovations originally introduced with the Airflow, such as scientific weight distribution and Floating Ride. Both the Airflow and the Airstream cars have high compression motors, synchro-planet transmissions, a new overdrive transmission, rust-proof safety-steel bodies, improved hydraulic brakes, floating power and hypoid rear axles in the Airflow and Custom Airstream. The Airstream will be available in two series—the De Luxe and Custom. The cars will be offered in the following body models in these lines: Touring Sedan, Touring Brougham and Coupe, A Convertible Sedan and a Convertible Coupe. Will be additional features of the Custom line. Longer and lower than last year, the Airstream has a wheelbase of 117 inches. Numerous refinements of body design contribute to the long, low appearance of the car. A beautiful new round hood radiator . . . hood leaves deftly fashioned in wing-like sections torpedo type headlamps mounted on windstream brackets . . . speed-lined rear lights, all add to the smartness of the new model. The aerodynamic styling of the car is further enhanced in the Custom line by a new V-type windshield, which slants back, upward and outward, from a chromium center bar. Equipped with a Safety-steel body that has been strengthened and reinforced at many vital points, the Airstream has been made sturdier by a redesigned frame so formed that it is now 50 per cent more rigid than the preceding model. The new frame and body are joined together in such a way that each strengthens the other. New rubber insulation between frame and body effectively shuts out road noise. The 1936 Airflow models which will be available in two body types—Sedan and Coupe—include all of the original advantages of aerodynamic design, redistribution of weight and unit frame construction, plus a number of refinements and improvements designed to give the car new comfort and improved appearance.

More WPA Money Allotted Ulster County

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—The state allocations board today released $5,721,439.49 for WPA projects to be taken up as soon as district directors can get the work under way.

Today's allocations brought the total for the last five days to $17,743,958.18.
The board has been working night and day to clear projects in order to carry out the program to put 130,000 men to work by mid-November.

The projects approved today for operation included:
Ulster County.
Shandaken: Extending Broad Street Hollow road to Greene county line, 1.8 miles, $2,815.44.
Rosendale: Construction of Oil-mat road from Whiteport to Hurley, 2 miles, $14,312.54.
Rochester: Improvement maintenance and repairs to town roads, $7,085.
Kingston: Completion of improvements to ERB road inter section project, $2,298.74.

Drivers of trucks are more careful than drivers of passenger cars in observing "Stop" signs, according to engineers of the United States Bureau of Public Roads who studied traffic in cooperation with State authorities in Rhode Island. Nearly 16 per cent of the trucks and 20 per cent of the passenger cars passed stop signs at speeds between 3 and 15 miles an hour, but only 4.5 per cent of the trucks, as compared to near-

Light Blood Cost For Manchoukuo Given by Japan

Tokyo (AP)—Japanese army figures reveal a comparatively small cost in human life as the price paid for Manchoukuo.

At the end of four years of campaigning the losses since the first fighting at Mukden the night of September 18, 1931, total 2,758 killed in action, 397 dead of wounds and 7,879 wounded.

More than 70 per cent of these casualties were suffered in the campaigns of 1931, 1932 and 1933, when Mukden, Haining, Taitshar, Chinchow, Harbin and finally Jehol fell successively before Japanese columns.

However, losses in the never-ending campaign against Manchurian bandits have continued steadily at the rate of about 40 dead a month.
Officially the Japanese deny that by this expenditure of blood they have added the Empire of Manchoukuo to the Japanese realm. Manchoukuo, they insist, has merely been freed from the Chinese yoke and given independence.

Bolivia Nationalizes Metal Mines
La Paz, Bolivia (AP)—The Bolivian government has issued a decree declaring as federal property deposits of gold, silver, tin, zinc and antimony in the province of Nuño de Chaves, Santa Cruz department.

Silks have a leading place in the resort and spring fashion picture. Varied interpretations of the peasant theme, linen-like silks, novelty wool-like constructions, and arresting treatments of prints give fresh impetus to American design collections.

City Clerk Plans to Aid Local Hunters

City Clerk E. J. Dempsey stated today that he had received a number of requests from residents who desired deer licenses asking when they could obtain the same as they were unable to get to the city hall during business hours. Mr. Dempsey said that to assist those who were unable to get to the office on Saturday before the office closed at noon that he would remain at the office until 1 o'clock to issue licenses. To date he has issued 60 deer licenses to hunters.

The first prize for ladies went to Mrs. Thomas Ashdown of New Paltz, who wore an Egyptian costume; the second to Mrs. Norwood K. Hough, talling of 6 St. James street. Frederick Crist of 31 St. James street took first prize for men's costume.

To Dedicate Markers, Welcome Residents

Five Bridge, Free House; in Springtown, the DuBois House. Following the dedication parade there will be a banquet at the Clinton Ford Pavilion, beginning at 8 o'clock. According to Henry Mollenhauer, chairman of the banquet committee, more than half of the capacity of the hall has already been reserved by former residents of the town. Addresses of welcome will be given by Supervisor Clifton G. Van Nostrand and Mayor Elias B. Roubrouck. Short talks will be given by Mrs. Mary Whalen Conger of Poughkeepsie, Patrick J. Foley of Staten Island, H. E. Dexter of Poughkeepsie, Raymond H. Torrey of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society. There will follow an introduction of prominent guests and group singing of old time songs led by Paul Zucca.

Saturday night will be turned over to the old timers at the get-together and reception at Firemen's Hall at nine o'clock. It is anticipated that the largest crowd ever assembled in Rosendale will be together at the reception. This affair will be entirely informal and it is here that most of the old timers will renew their old friendships. Paul Zucca will direct the dance and entertainment and also stage a floor show besides leading a songfest.

Appropriate welcome-home services will be conducted in the churches on Sunday and in the afternoon the citizens of the town will hold open house for the guests and visitors. Also on Sunday afternoon, there will be a team and dance given by a federation of women's organizations in the town at Zegel's Casino.

On Monday at 11 o'clock, special Armistice Day services will be conducted at the War Memorial by the Women's Club of Rosendale.

The committee actively engaged in arranging the celebration is as follows: E. M. Huben and Edward Brodsky, parade committee; W. Williams and W. Wiesler, publicity; H. Mollenhauer and L. Hill, banquet; E. P. Demarest, dedication, and C. R. Hotelling and J. O'Connor, reception.

The historical committee, largely responsible for the historical data on the markers, is as follows: The Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, chairman; E. L. Merritt, R. H. Torrey, C. I. LeFever, Allan S. McKenzie, Miss Emma Harndenbergh, Leonard P. Clark, Mrs. Timothy Sullivan, Harry Snyder, Frank Shesey, Mrs. K. W. Madden, Andrew J. Snyder, Charles T. Craig, D. V. Z. Bogart, Abraham Jansen, and the Hon. Frank H. LeFever.

The 27 New York state historical markers, which are the focal points of the celebration, were erected and obtained through the courtesy of Raymond H. Torrey, secretary American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society; Edward L. Merritt, secretary of the Ulster County Historical Society; New York State Historian Dr. A. C. Flick, and Col. Frederick S. Greene and Captain A. W. Brandt of the New York State Department of Public Works.

The name Rosendale first appears on a record dated 1685 in connection with Jacobus Rutsen, the first settler, to whose family Rutgers University owes its first charter. Jacobus Rutsen Hardenbergh of the same family being its first president. Many locations in the town were associated with Colonial and Revolutionary history.

During the construction of the Delaware and Hudson Canal in 1825, natural cement was discovered in this town and for many years made the region famous. Rosendale supplied cement throughout the country. The Brooklyn Bridge, the Croton Reservoir, the Statue of Liberty, Capitol and Treasury Buildings at Washington were all erected with the aid of this cement. For many years the name Rosendale was known wherever construction work was being done as the American standard for cement.

Rosendale was also an important port on the Delaware and Hudson Canal, previously constructed to provide water transportation from the coal fields of Pennsylvania to the Hudson river, and used this water route in transporting its product to the markets.

Four Known Dead in October Cold in West

Kansas City, Nov. 1 (AP)—The frigid breath of the Arctic reached the Gulf of Mexico today, leaving in its wake across the western United States four known dead, frost-damaged crops and residents shivering in the season's coldest weather.

Temperatures ranged from the 40's in Oklahoma and Texas to below freezing in the Rocky Mountain sector and the northern tier of mid-western states.

Subzero chill added to the misery of quake-frightened citizens of Helena, Mont.

Ducks, tardy in flying southward, plummeted to death in Winnipeg streets, their wings matted with ice in a sudden swirl of snow and sleet.

A Halloween freak of the weather was San Francisco's coldest October temperature—43 degrees—coinciding with Chicago's warmest, 78.4 degrees. The cold held on the west coast and advanced upon Chicago after a heavy downpour last night.

Short Of Price Goal.

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—The administration's two-year-old drive to raise the price level was still far short today of the original goal—the 1926 level. Two years ago President Roosevelt inaugurated his move to depreciate the dollar by purchasing gold through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The labor department's wholesale commodity index was then 79.8 per cent of the 1926 level. It is now 80.3.

Miraculous Medal Novena at St. Mary's

heard of in the history of the Church since the first days of Christianity. No wonder the Blessed Mother's gift to Sister Catherine Laboure came to be called the Miraculous Medal.

The devotion of the Miraculous Medal spread like wildfire throughout Europe and the Vincentian Fathers in March, 1915, established The Central Association of the Miraculous Medal in Germantown, Philadelphia. Its history in Europe was duplicated in this country: churches crowded with devoted clients of Mary, numerous miracles of both spiritual and material nature. Up to 1933, 19,817,000 medals and 7,463,000 booklets had been distributed. In the United States the devotion has taken on the form of a Perpetual Novena in honor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal.

It was as a prelude to that great August feast day of our Blessed Mother's Assumption into Heaven, that this devotion was introduced into Kingston in St. Mary's Church. At first one service was held every Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Presently the pastor, Dean Stanley, found it necessary to add an afternoon service at 4 o'clock. The people continued to come in such numbers that another service had to be added; this at 7 o'clock.

In trying to discover the secret of this devotion's tremendous popularity, we find that, beside the numerous favors which have been granted through Our Blessed Mother's intercession, another reason for its immense appeal to the people is the fact that those who attend play a very intimate part in the service. All join in the prayers and hymns in honor of Our Blessed Mother, which form the greater part of the service. In addition there is a short sermon, and the devotion is brought to a close with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Altogether it forms a brief but most appealing service. Some idea of the immense appeal the service has for the people of Kingston may be had from the number of medals and Novena booklets distributed since the devotion began in August. Nearly 2,500 medals and more than 1,300 booklets have been distributed.

No less surprising is the number of favors which have been granted in answer to the devout petitions of those who have flocked to the devotion. Week after week these devoted clients of Our Blessed Mother have come to her, seeking an answer to their spiritual and material problems. And she has responded lavishly; for week after week an average of three and four letters is received at St. Mary's Rectory, telling of a favor received, a quest ended, a problem solved. Most letters tell the story of a long stretch of unemployment ended through recourse to Mary's aid. Others recount the conversion to God of people who had previously resisted all efforts to move them to repentance. Still others speak of the sudden and unaccountable return to health of the physically sick. The following letter is typical of the many received thus far:

"I want to let you know that I have received an answer to my request to Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal, concerning an ailment for which I could not afford to keep up the medical treatments necessary. In thanksgiving, I promise to continue making novenas as long as I am able."

Most assuredly, this Perpetual Novena in honor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal, has been productive of astounding results since its inception. It has extended to the Virgin Mary the homage due her as the Mother of God. It has called down upon its devotees the choicest blessings of Almighty God and His Blessed Mother. And it has brought to many the solution of problems and the answer to difficulties which have long perplexed them.

These results will continue to manifest themselves as long as the devotion endures.

BRITAIN'S FLEET MAY USE PETROL MADE FROM COAL

London (AP)—Britain's fleet soon may be burning petrol made from coal. Auto owners already have bought it, unknowingly, in a mixture with a well known fuel.

A $15,000,000 plant in northeast England, for the making of oils by hydrogenation of coal, has been placed in full operation.

Two thousand men will be directly employed in the expected annual production of 45,000,000 gallons.

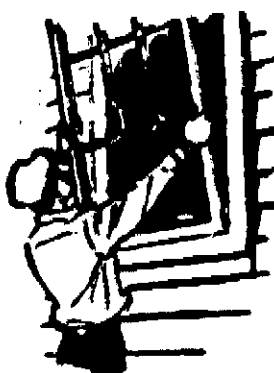

Two hours after a lump of coal enters the labyrinth of machinery and tubes it has been transformed into fine oil ready for use. Government officials look to this new process to help rejuvenate the stagnant coal areas of the northeast country.

Commissioner Richard E. Holz, who retired from the office of Eastern Territorial Commander in the United States with more than fifty years' service, has arrived in Germany, where he will conduct a Salvation campaign ending with the famous repentance day meetings in Berlin on November 20. This interchange of officers is in accordance with the desire of General Evangeline Booth that the Salvation Army as a whole may become more closely acquainted with leaders from other parts of the world.

At The Theatres

Today
Broadway: "O'Shaughnessy's Boy". Those who like sentiment on the screen of the tear dripping variety will find it in this co-starring vehicle of Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper. Reunited after the successful "The Champ", we find another story built to the measure of these two geniuses who portray man and boy love better than any other two actors in the business. The story concerns a circus man, a lion tamer to be exact, and his love and adoration for a boy who changes his whole life. Through misunderstanding, a minor tragedy occurs but all turns out in a combination of tears and laughter in the final moments of the play. Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper seem to enjoy their parts and live them with an enjoyable realism and along with the tearful scenes are to be found moments of hilarious comedy.

Orpheum: "Smart Girl" and "Hardrock Harrigan". Double features continue at the Orpheum, the first, a sophisticated story of romance and misunderstanding, stars the attractive Ida Lupino, and the second brings the husky he-man George O'Brien in a story of men who dig tunnels. There is the usual villain who tries to make a "softie" out of our hero but this show has a trick plot that makes it impossible for the hero to fight the villain at all. Irene Hervey and Fred Kochler are also in the cast.

Kingston: "Little Big Shot" and "The Girl Friend". Warner Brothers looked around for a competitor for Shirley Temple and found her in little Sybil Jason, who will warm your heart in the first film at the Kingston. She sings and gets along like a veteran in a story that tells of an orphan who is adopted by a Broadway sport and her performance makes a trite plot seem almost effective. Edward Everett Horton, Robert Armstrong and Glenda Farrell are also in the cast. "The Girl Friend" tells of a down at the heel actor who goes to a hick town and poses as a great producer. It finally comes out that he puts on a play written by a local hick and the outcome is pretty much burlesque of a musical comedy. There are a couple of good songs and a fine cast that offers Roger Pryor, Jack Haley and Ann Sothern.

Tomorrow
Broadway: "I Live My Life". Mrs. Franchot Tone, known to the screen as Joan Crawford, lives a lively life as the star of this sophisticated yarn, the tale of a rich girl whose every wish is gratified until she runs into a young man, an archaeologist, who is more interested in antiquities than modern feminine beauty, and it takes all Miss Crawford's skill to arouse him to the joys of romance. There will be found some skillful dialogue in this comedy and everybody seems to have a lot of fun in their assignments. Followers of Miss Crawford will find the glamour girl nicely cast in this show and the settings, as always, are models of modernity and luxury. Brian Aherne proves an engaging lover and the work of Frank Morgan and Aline MacMahon is a standout part of the film.

Orpheum: Same.
Kingston: "The Last Outpost". The white man's burden, now being valiantly carried out in Italy's effort to make Ethiopia safe for the white man and civilization by killing off primitive natives who get in the way of progress, is shouldered again in the film at the Kingston, the story of England's troubles in Africa some years ago. Despite glorious fighting and sacrifice, the story is essentially concerned with the love of two men for the same woman and the African adventure is but a background for the passions of a three-cornered love affair. There is plenty of excitement in this show and the battle scenes on the desert sands are effective. Claude Rains, as the husband who fears nothing but his wife's infidelity, gives another realistic performance, and Gary Grant and Gertrude Michael do excellent work in the other main characterizations. "Amateur Night" is an added attraction of the Saturday evening performance.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—They were talking about fights and fighters, Hollywood's "one blow contests" and the like, when Richard Arlen took the floor to testify. He told about the early experience that convinced him movie actors, despite the powder puff and make-up, can hold their own.

"Before I came to Hollywood," he said, "I shared the opinion that one regular guy [a fellow not an actor] could lick a dozen movie heroes every morning before breakfast.

"Only a few men use make-up in pictures now, but a few years ago they did, and we could never figure on how a man who powdered his nose could fight.

"I hadn't been in Hollywood long before I bumped shoulders in a crowd with a fellow I recognized as an extra I'd worked with the day before. One of us said something and I was about to annihilate the surplus of movie extras by annihilating this one when something hit me. It might have been a ten-ton truck, but people tell me it was that extra's fist. I was out for five minutes."

Arlen Can Qualify
Arlen, often himself the hero of two-fisted roles, has boxed since boyhood and thinks he can qualify on the fighting qualities of his fellow actors. He thinks there would be more front-page Hollywood fist-fights if actors did not sidestep them, no matter how strong the justification, because of the unfavorable publicity angle it's the same way, he parallels, with professional boxers, some of whom have to "take a lot in public because if they gave vent to their feelings as most men would they would be considered brutal.

And Dick named a few actors he thinks are good.

"George O'Brien probably is the best boxer in pictures. He is one of the finest, quietest, most admired men I know. But he also is a cat in the ring and he hits like bad news.

Gable All Right, Too
"James Cagney is more than fair with the gloves and in a bare-knuckled encounter, the kind that faces every man occasionally, he is a terror. Jack Holt is not the person to push around if you want to keep your nose in the right place, either.

"Clark Gable, Lee Tracy and Pat O'Brien all can go in the ring, and I know a lot more who can do all right by themselves in a fight."

And then Arlen had to go back to work—incidentally, with both fists. He was playing the two-fisted minister in "The Calling of Dan Mac-thews."

GIBBON, "INFIDEL" WRITER.
OWNED RARE 1497 BIBLE.
New York (AP)—A rare Latin version of the Bible, printed in 1497 and once owned by Edward Gibbon, author of "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," has been imported from England by Edwin Rumball-Petre, who deals exclusively in old Bibles.

It contains Gibbon's bookplate and crest, and some of the pages have been annotated.

The book, a small folio, is of particular interest, Rumball-Petre says, because Gibbon was reputed to be an infidel.

CAN YOU WRITE THE KIND OF LETTER EVERY ONE LOVES TO RECEIVE?

THINK OF PERSON TO WHOM YOU'RE WRITING

Simple notes lead to delightful friendships. . . good times. . . to all kinds of pleasant things.

That is, if you make them as charming as the one in our illustration, and observe the rules of good letter-writing. The effect of a letter as winning in style as this could be marred by poorly chosen stationery. . . too flamboyant a shade of ink. . . an overly imposing monogram.

Writing a letter can be a simpler matter than you think if you'll just imagine that you're talking to the person to whom you're writing. For get your pen and paper, and all the stiff, correct phrases you've thought of as belonging in a letter. Write exactly as though you were talking to the person to whom the letter is going.

Write Spontaneously

For instance, take the letter we've illustrated. The girl is answering an invitation to dinner from a man living out of town. She might have said, stiffly, "It's a kind of you to invite me to dine with you when you're here Saturday." But, instead, she writes as naturally as if she were chatting with the young man. And you know the man will be charmed with her letter, that he'll look forward eagerly to an evening with a girl who writes so spontaneously.

Try to get this charming "from-me-to-you" quality into your letters. See if you can't make them sound like conversation on paper, meant for one person and one person only. Then they'll be the kind of letters every one loves to receive.

Helpful Booklet

Our 40-page Home Institute booklet, HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS, will help you to become "letter perfect." Mr. LeFevre Answers.

Ray LeFevre

Auditor and Purchasing Agent for the County of Ulster.
Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 31, 1933.
To the Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman:

May I ask you for the privilege of enough space in your valuable paper for the following comment on the investigation of my office recently?

In the first instance from the majority report filed yesterday, it would seem that my office was not the one under investigation, as considerably more time was taken up with budgets, county treasurer's balances and county salaries than was given to my office, and it seems that instead of doing the job they were ordered to do, which was, and I quote the resolution: "Resolved, that Supervisors Voss, Pine and Davis be and they hereby are appointed a committee of this board to investigate and examine all purchases, expenditures, payments, obligations, debts and claims unpaid, made and incurred by the county auditor and purchasing agent, or his assistant or clerk, since the date of his report to the board of supervisors, filed at its annual meeting in November, 1934" (unquote) they spent most of their time looking for something in no way connected with my office.

This committee never investigated a purchase order, requisition, voucher, or any official record of my office except to check my warrant book against cancelled warrants in the county treasurer's office in the hope, as expressed by Chairman Voss, that they would find some warrant that I had issued and might have told the bearer to hold until I had funds to pay it with. He admitted in the presence of Pine and Davis that he had done that sometimes with his personal account, and when I requested that he spend a few more minutes and check the warrants back to December 9th, 1932, and then determine whether my record was complete and correct or whether the county treasurer's was correct, he flatly refused to do so; he just simply did not wish to be compelled to substantiate my record and he did not!

Concerning the letter of the county treasurer's which states there is available in my fund $1,344.25, I would say the county treasurer's office has known for weeks that I claimed my fund was exhausted, and if he were in touch with the records of his office, it was his duty to inform me that he had this money to my credit, because I personally refused his office supplies on that very account several weeks ago.

Now I state unqualifiedly that according to the records of my office and of the board of county auditors previous to my administration there is not any such sum as $1,344.25 to the credit of my account, and that either the county treasurer or the previous Republican county board of auditors are wrong, and I cannot believe that a gentleman as watchful and as capable as Roscoe Elsworth assumes to be, would allow the Republican board of supervisors, of which he was chairman at that time, to accept a report of the Republican county board of auditors which was incorrect; but apparently he did, and I would like to ask Supervisor Elsworth to appoint a committee to investigate the county treasurer's office, and the records of the county board of auditors for the years 1932 and 1933, and also of my office for the year of 1934 and 1935 as they as yet have not been investigated.

(Signed) RAY LEFEVRE,
County Auditor.

The Martin Circus

Kingston Freeman:
Bill Martin is claiming that he is the great friend of the laboring man and the unfortunate and unemployed.

As Al Smith says, let's take a look at the record.
In 1933 we volunteer firemen wanted to do something for those in distress. We ran a circus in the armory, sold tickets, raffled off an automobile, had programs, etc. The proceeds were to go to the committee of Kingston women called the Volunteer Aid Committee, to buy shoes for poor children.

I sold tickets and so did a lot of firemen. All business men shelled out freely for such a good cause.

The circus was held the week of February 20, 1933, but a financial report was not made public until May 4, 1933. (See Freeman that date.)

This report showed that the people of Kingston had paid in the sum of $5,017.25 and the expenses of running the show were $4,481.09. This left only $536.16 left for the unemployed, after the people of the city had contributed over $5,000.00.

Bill Martin was the head of the whole thing. He was the chairman of the committee and the main works.

Everybody seems to be talking about the circus as an example of Mr. Martin's business management, but nobody states the correct figures. These figures are taken from the published record.

Yours truly,
A VOLUNTEER FIREMAN.

Safety on Rock

Troy, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP).—Dr. William Ous Hotchkiss, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute today gave a probable explanation for the fact some persons felt this morning's earthquake tremors and others did not. Houses built on sand or clay probably would be affected by the waves more than houses built on solid rock, he said. "The sand and clay can shake like jelly on a plate, while the solid rock behaves like a lump of ice on a plate," he said.

Republicans Rap Democrats for Platform Failure

Winding up a series of the city Republican Club meetings at Modern Hall last night with what spokesmen described as the best held during the campaign, issues were discussed relative to the city and state campaigns with further attacks by Republican speakers against the Citizens' Committee candidates for their silence and refusal to make any statements concerning their stand on municipal affairs.

Fred Stang, law student, addressed the gathering in an attack upon the Democratic party in control of the state legislature. Answering a statement made by Irwin Steingut, speaker of the Assembly, Mr. Stang reminded his listeners that State Troopers had to be used last winter to keep the Democratic assemblymen from running out of the chamber yet Mr. Steingut had spoken of his colleagues as standing like the Rock of Gibraltar.

"The Democrats don't tell you that the state is $100,000,000 in the red; they don't tell you that the public was denied a hearing on the executive budget that was forced through the last legislature. If you send a Democrat to Albany from Ulster county," Mr. Stang warned, "he won't be able to represent your interests here but will be under remote control." The speaker gave several illustrations how upstate Democratic assemblymen had been controlled by New York city interests.

Of the record established by J. Edward Conway, Republican incumbent and candidate for re-election, Mr. Stang raised the work of this assemblyman in declaring that he had always held his people in mind on every vote made.

Matthew V. Cahill, corporation counsel, spoke on the merits of the Republican candidates for the Supreme Court. He told of Judge Staley's 14 years on the bench and the 33 years of trial law by H. H. Flemming. Regarding the two Democratic candidates Mr. Cahill questioned the record of either of these men and stated that the experiences had been limited to work equal to that of a justice of the peace.

Because the Democrats had brought the subject up, Senator A. H. Wicks declared, something of the campaign managers could be mentioned. At a testimonial dinner for the Citizens' Committee candidate an inference was made relative to Philip Elting as campaign manager for Mayor Heiselman. Speaking of Mr. Martin's alleged campaign manager, Joseph A. Murray, Senator Wicks wanted to know what this former New York policeman was doing in Kingston while his home is in New York city and now he is staying at a Kingston hotel.

Mr. Murray, formerly of the Boulevard, must have some interest in the outcome of the election, the senator asserted, or he wouldn't have troubled to come up to Kingston. Mr. Wicks suggested that people look into records of The Freeman and find out something about the past of this alleged campaign manager. "He has nothing to brag about," Wicks challenged, "he would do well to stay in New York city and look after politics there."

"What is there in this campaign for this manager," queried the senator, "has he been promised a job, and if so what kind of a job? He must expect to get something out of this. Just look at his record," reaffirmed the senator. Mr. Wicks asked why Bill Martin had lost his union label and charged him with hiding behind the skirts of a former mayor. He accused Mr. Martin of raising assessments in the city when he was assessor and asserted that his defense was that Mayor Carey made him do it and quoted a reply that Mr. Carey stated this was a lie.

Mayor Heiselman again emphasized that his opponent had been repeatedly challenged during the past month to publicly tell the voters of this city what platform he was running on, but only silence greeted the challenge. Speeches had been made at Democratic meetings by the Citizens' candidates, but reporters had been excluded from the meetings, and the utterances of his opponent have never been reported. The only inference that could be drawn was that their speeches could not stand the light of publicity, that they were afraid to let the people of the city know what they were talking about.

Mayor Heiselman expressed his belief that the intense interest shown in this campaign as indicated by the large attendance at Republican meetings throughout the city, as well as the state showed that the people realized the vital importance of the decision they must make next Tuesday, and their rapt attention indicated that they were interested in the issues, not personalities or promises.

"Our record in the interest of good government has been made. We now stand on that record," Mr. Heiselman affirmed. "There has been no criticism of that record by my opponents. I have heard nothing except 57 varieties of whispering campaigns that are being circulated by my enemies; the usual poppycock. If I had to resort to such methods, I would rather not be elected."

"Twice I have had to assume the duties of Mayor on account of the illness of two former mayors. This is the first time I have ever been a candidate for Mayor. If the people of this city think that my service and record now entitle me to be elected mayor in my own right, I would appreciate their support."

Mr. Heiselman was given a forceful demonstration of approval by his large and enthusiastic audience.

Quake Starts Clock

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP).—The earthquake did a favor for Mrs. Thomas Cosbey of Nedrow. It started a clock that had not run for two years, she reported. The clock ticked regularly today.

A meeting of the Eighth Ward Democratic Club will be held at 40 McEatee street Sunday afternoon at 1:45 members are urged to attend.

EARTHQUAKE STOPPED CLOCK AT VAN STEENBURGH HOME

When Oliver Van Steenburgh of 79 Van Buren street got up this morning and took a look at the clock he was surprised to find that the faithful old timepiece had quit at five minutes past one. He couldn't understand it until he saw the morning papers and learned that Kingston had been visited by an earthquake early in the morning. "Oils" clock must be running right, at that, as according to the official statement from Cornell University, the seismograph there recorded the first tremor at almost exactly that time.

Two Arrests Here

TO THE TAXPAYERS and RENTPAYERS OF KINGSTON

In 1932, when Candidate Martin was City Assessor, he increased real estate assessments to the amount of $1,232,000.00.

COMPARE THIS WITH THE FOUR SOUND POINTS OF THE HEISELMAN ADMINISTRATION:

1. Decreased tax rate—lowest in 10 years
2. Funded debt equalized—insuring another tax reduction in 1936
3. No increase in bonded indebtedness during past two years
4. No increase in assessments

The Kingston Daily Freeman on August 17, 1932, published an article describing the storming of Mr. Martin's office by 400 aggrieved taxpayers on grievance day, which reads in part as follows:

"Mr. Martin said he foresaw a tax rate of $60.00 per thousand instead of a decrease from the present rate of $56.16 because of numerous expenses borne by the city government and desired the cooperation of property owners in paying on higher assessments so that debts might be overcome without having to call upon the taxpayers to stand for a higher rate the next time the city budget is made up. Mr. Martin promised that paying on higher assessments would eventually decrease the tax rate."

$10,440 WPA Survey To Find Deaf Children Denounced by Medics

New York, Oct. 31.—A scathing denunciation of the proposed use of public funds by the WPA for a futile public health project will be published tomorrow in the New York State Journal of Medicine, the official organ of the Medical Society of the State of New York, which comprises among its membership most of the practitioners of the state.

"The project," states the Journal, "calls for a survey of deaf children in Monroe county, New York, at a cost of $10,440. The prospectus states that Monroe county contains 60 of these children. Other evidence from the head of the Bureau of Handicapped Children in the New York State Education Department at Albany accounts for only 11 such, exclusive of those already in the Averill Avenue Nursery. Hence, it is intended to spend $10,440 to survey these 14 children."

The Medical Society of the County of Monroe, according to the Journal, has remonstrated against this step through its Public Health Committee, which reports that the plan has been studied by a sub-committee on deafness and hard of hearing.

"Such a project," states the Journal, "has no health value whatever. It presupposes subsequent training of the deaf child for which no provision is made, and its value is emphatically questioned by educators. Since it is impossible to detect deaf children before the age of three years and, since the public and special schools take them over at five years of age, the whole project is limited to children between three and five years."

"The project is an unwarranted intrusion into a medical and educational problem by sponsors who are not certified as competent by either medical or educational authorities. In times of great depression, such as we are living through, it would hardly seem possible that funds could be wasted on so futile a project."

Morse's Telegraph

In 1832, Samuel F. B. Morse, an American artist, conceived the idea which later he developed into the electric telegraph and his telegraphic alphabet or code. Morse completed his first instruments in 1835 and during the succeeding eight years gave a number of public demonstrations. After several fruitless efforts, he obtained, in 1843, a government appropriation to build an experimental telegraph line. Over this line, from Washington to Baltimore, the first telegraph message was transmitted on May 24, 1844. It was: "What hath God wrought!" With the sending of this message began a new era in human history, for it marked the first successful transmission of written word by electricity—a branch of communication which during the past 90 years has played an important part in the social and economic development of America and of the world as a whole.

Baron von Steuben

Frederick William Augustus Henry Ferdinand, Baron von Steuben, was a Prussian officer on the staff of Frederick the Great, who came to America late in 1777 and offered his services to the Continental congress as a volunteer officer. General Washington at once appreciated the worth of such a trained soldier and made him inspector general at Valley Forge. In spite of the hardships under which the army lived that winter Von Steuben changed them from a mob into well drilled troops. As a reward congress gave him the rank of major general and inspector general of the entire army. Upon retirement he was given a grant of land at what is now Steubenville, N. Y., where he lived until his death in 1794.

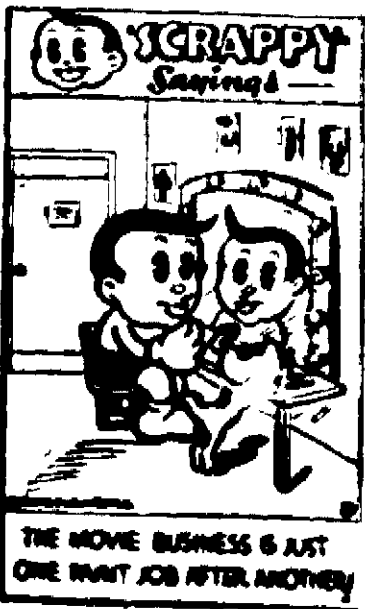

The Aran People

There are three islands of Aran—Inishmore, Inishceer and Inishmaan comprising that group of islands off the Irish coast.

The Aran people wear homespun clothing and pameoilles, a sort of moose-cash fashioned from cowhide, and are immensely interested when a traveler arrives attired in Bond street's newest products. The white washed cottages and peat fires that are linked so intimately with Irish history are there, and so are the fairy tales. It is a bleak land, with poor soil, but fish are plentiful. The land is peaceful and unaffected by the bustle that has become a part of modern life.

WIFE'S PARACHUTE SILENS JAIL FRENCH CORPORAL

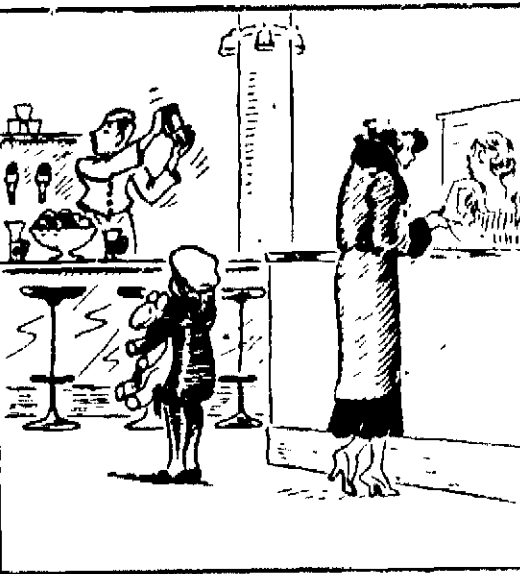

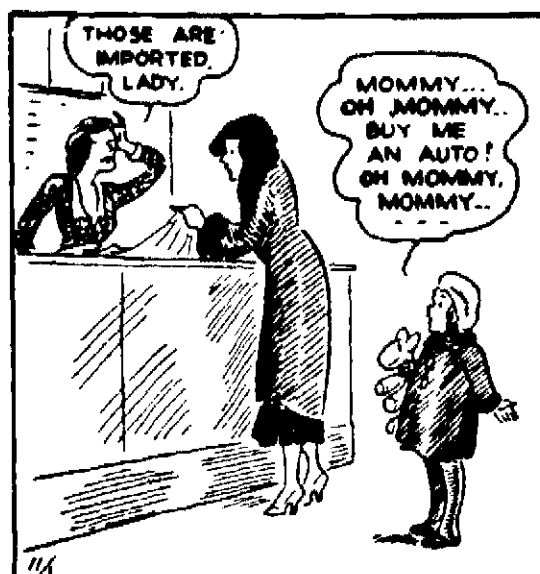

Paris (P)—Jean Cognie was sentenced to two years in jail for dressing his wife in parachute silk.

Cognie, a private in the air corps, was convicted by court martial of having stolen parachute silk from the Villacoublay air base to make lingerie for his wife. He pleaded it was impossible to clothe Mme. Cognie on his salary of one and a half cents a day.

A full military court of gold braided generals, their laps piled high with exhibits from Mme. Cognie's wardrobe, ruled it "better to go naked than steal from the state."

AFRICA'S TOUGHEST BEEF GOES TO ITALIAN TROOPS

Pretoria, So. Africa (P)—Cattle prices have boomed as a result of the war in Ethiopia, and South African farmers are shouting "Viva Italia!" and "Hall Selassie!" The thousands of head offered for sale at high prices include thin, underfed animals of doubtful value.

Even natives, ordinarily most reluctant to sell cattle, sense the situation and are sorting out the "oldest residents" of their herds for the Italian troops.

Assassin Is Killed After Wounding Four

By C. V. MC DANIELS
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

Nanking, China, Nov. 1.—An assassin's bullets today wounded Premier Wang Ching-wei, generally regarded as a pro-Japanese leader, and three other officials of the Chinese nationalist government, gathered to consider Japan's advance in North China.

The assassin, believed by authorities to be a Chinese identified with the Cantonese faction which long has been critical of the premier's attitude, was killed as bodyguards returned the fire.

Wang Ching-wei, 50, was struck by at least three bullets and was removed to the Central Hospital in a critical condition.

His principal aide, Tseng Chun-

Min, vice-minister of interior for railways, also was near death. Chang Chi, former president of the Judicial Yuan, and Kan Nai-Kuang, chief of the political bureau of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters, also were wounded.

The premier's assailant was identified, authorities announced, as Sun Ming-shun, reporter for a Chinese news agency. The officials alleged that Sun used a camera as a shield for his pistol in the attack.

Despite the consternation caused by the attempted assassination, nationalist government officials decided to continue the meeting of the central executive committee.

The capital took on the aspects of an armed camp. Streets were filled with policemen carrying rifles.

Speculation was rife to the effect that the shooting might be the first blow by proponents of resistance to Japan who had become increasingly in evidence recently after application of new Japanese pressure on the north.

NOT QUESTION OF HEALTH
Meeting of Laval, Nuncio a Matter of Policies

Vatican City, Nov. 1 (AP).—A high authority said today Pope Pius still hoped and prayed that Italy's colonial ambitions might be satisfied—but without war.

This authority said the Pontiff maintained an unchanging position from that already publicly expressed, favoring recognition of the "hopes, requirements and needs" of Italy, but insisting that the solution must be "with peace."

His Holiness has made no public proposals, but the Papal Nuncio to Paris, Monsignor Maglione, has been conferring actively recently with Premier Pierre Laval.

One high ecclesiastic said, "Certainly the Nuncio is not always inquiring about the premier's health." The Pope has twice pronounced definitely his attitude in the Ethiopian controversy.

Two Deaths Counted As Result of Halloween

Chicago, Nov. 1 (AP).—The nation counted at least two deaths today and six persons severely injured in the 1935 celebration of Halloween.

Police and other authorities generally agreed, however, this year's festival was characterized by fewer casualties than in former years and a decrease of depredations.

The recent campaign to make October's witches sabbath safe and sane bore fruit in extensive supervised community merry making, hailed as a safety valve for the future.

A five-year-old boy in Troy, N. Y., was burned to death when a bonfire of leaves set his costume afire. In a civic parade at Brazil, Ind., Raymond Hill, 11, fell from a truck and was killed.

A jack-o-lantern candle ignited the dress of Dorothy King, 7, of San Francisco, burning her seriously.

Joe Broussard, 16, of Beaumont, Tex., suffered birdshot wounds in his legs in a Halloween foray.

At Detroit, Donald Marston, 18, was wounded by a firing station attendant who fired at two pranksters trying to carry away a sign.

New York city police reported it was the quietest Halloween in years, but 32 false alarms before midnight helped to make it the "busiest in history" for the fire department.

Police blamed pranksters for a fire which destroyed a garage at Laurel, Mont. At Billings, Mont., patrolmen spent several hours chasing through the streets three cows which had been turned loose.

Atlanta Ga., police arrested four youths for spanking women with paddles. In a spirit of frolic, six girls wearing men's clothing tried to kidnap two policemen of Blue Island, suburb of Chicago.

Preservation of sources of water supply in the Adirondacks is vital to wildlife there, and forest fires are the greatest threats to those sources, J. S. Apperson, president of the Forest Preserve Association of New York State, said in a speech at the thirty-first annual convention of the National Association of Audubon Societies at the American Museum of Natural History.

ERB Will Continue To Function in City During Next Month

The local ERB was notified this morning by the State TERA that it had been allotted the sum of $50,000 to carry on home and work projects in Kingston during November. This is the same amount allotted to the ERB for October.

This would indicate that the ERB will continue to function during the next month, and that all work projects now underway will be continued here.

Third Report Meeting Tonight at Y. M. C. A.

The third report meeting in the campaign to raise the Kingston district's share of the money needed to continue activities in the Ulster-Greene Boy Scout Council this coming year, will be held at the Y. M. C. A. this evening.

Scout Executive Wright states that the dinner and meeting will start at 6:30 sharp, and end at 7:30. He urges every worker to be on hand at 6:30.

Some of the outside communities continue to report good work. Highland, with a quota of $250 has so far turned in $301.85 and Clintonville, with a quota of $75, has turned in $106.50 and both communities are still at it.

SEEKING THINGS

Stamp Scanners Report Variety of Discoveries

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—People who examine the new Boulder Dam stamp issued by the post office are seeking things.

A few days ago one stamp-lover reported he had found, with the aid of a magnifying glass, a tiny picture of President Roosevelt tucked away amid the delicate decoration of the stamp.

Today Robert King, government stamp expert, took a squint himself and reported he found: A mountain climber, the Liberty Bell (cracks and all), September Morn, and the initials "U. S."

But all these things are either accidental or imaginary, he said. The stamp designer never intended them. "You can find anything you want to find, practically," he said. "Some people can see a man in the moon. I never could."

HELENA MARSHALS FORCES TO RECONSTRUCT CITY

Helena, Mont., Nov. 1 (AP)—Montana's capital city, stunned by its second death-dealing earthquake, marshaled its forces of reconstruction today after a night made miserable by dread of further shocks and subzero cold.

Despite the cold, many feared to return to their residences and spent the night with children from orphan homes in two special trains, rushed into the city to provide emergency shelter.

Others huddled in automobiles and in shelter shelters outside the city where no shock-weakened buildings could fall.

City Engineer Oscar Baarson estimated the loss in yesterday's quake at "from $500,000 up"—not so severe as at first believed. He said the total loss during the 20-day period of recurrent quakes amounted to about $2,500,000.

Two men died beneath a toppling chimney yesterday, increasing the number of quake victims since October 12 to seven. They were Ed O'Brien and Vincent Kennedy, both of Salt Lake City.

Scores suffered minor injuries in yesterday's two devastating shocks, which were followed by a series of lesser tremors.

Baby Burned to Death

San Diego, Calif., Nov. 1 (AP)—Trapped in his flaming crib, a three-year-old boy was burned to death early today. No one else was in the house. Police and fire investigators said there apparently had been a Halloween party in the house earlier in the evening and expressed the belief that a live cigarette had been dropped on a sofa. The baby was identified as Richard R. Barge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barge, who Detective Joe Johnson said, returned to the home a few minutes after the flames arrived. A small dog perched in the flames beside his youthful master.

Assemblyman Conway Speaks on Labor Bills

At the Republican rally in St. Mary's Hall, Marlborough, Thursday, presided over by Thomas McManus, Assemblyman J. Edward Conway was one of the speakers and addressed the gathering on labor measures and his treatment of them in the state legislature.

The Assemblyman by digging into the records showed his friendly feeling toward the cause of labor and by so doing brought out that Governor Lehman, Democratic leader in the state, vetoed 12 bills supported by the Federation of Labor.

Besides Mr. Conway, the other speakers at the rally were Philip Elting, Republican leader in Ulster county; Robert Parks, candidate for county welfare officer; Abram Molyneux, candidate for sheriff; and Robert Groves, former county attorney.

Tonight Assemblyman Conway will speak at another rally to be held in the town of Olive. Other speakers will be Harry H. Flemming, candidate for supreme court justice; Mr. Elting and N. LeVan Haver.

At Marlborough last night Assemblyman Conway spoke as follows:

My Democratic opponent has spent a great deal of his time declaring his undying love, and that of his party, for labor and with typical insincerity, has endeavored to create the impression that I am not a friend of labor. Upon what peg did he hang his whole argument? Simply upon the fact that out of 78 measures approved by the Federation of Labor, I voted against 9. Had he gone further into the record he would have seen that Governor Lehman vetoed 12 bills supported by the Federation. If, upon that ground, he wants you to believe that I am not a friend of labor he would label his own party leader, the Governor, as unfriendly to labor. Still he pledges himself, if elected, to support the entire program of the Governor.

Now it is my earnest conviction that the solution of the laborer's problem lies in the creation of work; that the great need of our workmen today is employment, and that therefore, friendship toward labor is best demonstrated by constant efforts to afford jobs for as many of our unemployed as possible, on useful work at self-sustaining wages.

The Record

Let us apply this sound test to my record as your representative and to the record of the Democratic controlled legislature.

Since my first year as your representative in the Assembly, I have consistently and energetically fought to abide by the law of this state and to use the tax and license fees for the construction of highways.

At the last session I worked for and voted for the Republican program to eliminate grade crossings so that there might be released the hundred million dollars authorized by the people for this much needed work. The expenditure of this money would have provided jobs for other thousands of the unemployed. To all our pleas, the Democratic party turned a deaf ear and killed this legislation.

Cooperating with Senator Wicks, we introduced and secured the passage of a bill which would permit Ulster county to be considered as a proper site for the location along the Hudson River shore, of a free port. It must be obvious that to secure such a port would greatly enhance the importance and increase the commerce in our own county. This bill was vetoed by Governor Lehman.

I secured the passage of legislation making the Northern Ashokan Boulevard a state highway, in the hope of providing immediate employment in our county, and in order to provide a better and safer route through the Catskills. While this measure was passed and signed, the Democratic legislature refused to appropriate sufficient money to provide for the reconstruction, and thereby thwarted my plan to help our citizens.

Shandaken Flood Relief

For several years, I have endeavored to secure legislation requiring the construction of a pipe line to carry New York City's water to the residents and thereby prevent the Shandaken lands. Such construction would call for the expenditure of approximately one million dollars in our county, and would virtually wipe out our unemployment. Having secured the passage of this bill by the legislature last year, I was surprised to find the governor refused to public hearing, and vetoed the bill. Due to the fact that there was no indication of a readiness on his part to alter his position, I did not reintroduce this legislation which would have been certain of defeat at Democratic hands, as such action, on my part, would be a mere deception of the people in my district and could accomplish nothing but to raise their hopes falsely.

I introduced legislation calling for the development by the state of the Catskills as the administration has developed the Adirondacks. If the plan had been adopted, employment would have been afforded for large numbers of our people, and the recreation facilities, camp sites and trails now constructed would have been maintained in the best manner. The Democratic legislature killed this measure in the committee. I might go on at great length reciting attempts to assist our people. Needless to say, the Democrats have, at every turn, seen to it that those attempts would be in vain.

Industry Driven Out

That legislature, on the other hand, passed—and I opposed—a great deal of legislation which restricts and so hampers business in this state that industries are being driven out of our state and into more favorable neighboring states. A number of these industries that have already moved are: The air-conditioning department of the General Electric of Schenectady which has gone to New Jersey. Three thousand men and women are without employment in Syracuse because General Motors moved one of its divisions to the middle west. Five thousand men and women of Rochester are unemployed because Eastman Kodak Company re-located its main plant in Tennessee instead of Rochester.

So we find the Democratic party has led to organized labor in this state a lot of honeyed words and then deprived the unemployed of jobs. My opponent has re-echoed those words and then issued all his campaign printing without the union label. I believe, that actions rather than words are the real test of sincerity.

The Democratic aspirant for the office of Governor of Assembly, unable to fulfill his early campaign promise to leave out personalities, has referred to me as "Sphinx." Well, I am highly complimented. You know the Sphinx is one of the wonders of the world and it is yet to be recorded that that monumental structure has ever been disturbed or annoyed, much less destroyed, by the vacuous complaints of one ambitious to supersede it in its position of prominence in the history of the world.

About The Folks

Mrs. Edna Kidd, formerly of Kingston, is in the Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown, under the care of Dr. Harrington of Wurtsboro.

Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Rytup of Bloomington have returned home after enjoying a five weeks vacation and the doctor has resumed his practice.

Captain Bob Bartlett, who was master of the ship Roosevelt on which Commander Robert E. Peary and his expedition sailed when he discovered the North Pole in 1909, has been a recent guest at Yama Farms.

The old and mysterious presence for a ship with three or even four funnels still lingers in the minds of many travelers. Probably it dates from the time when a ship big enough to have more than one smokestack was a novelty, and each additional funnel was held to indicate increased size, speed and safety. With this in mind, perhaps, designers have frequently given liners dummy funnels.

Thorny Problem

Athens, Nov. 1 (AP)—George II of Greece, a king without a kingdom, was pictured in some political quarters today as being faced with one of the thorniest problems of his career—the form his government will take—if he does return to Athens. Almost on the eve of Sunday's plebiscite on restoring the monarchy, persistent but unconfirmed reports said the former monarch even had appealed to Eleutherios Venizelos, former premier and foe of Royalist, for help in striking a mean between Fascism and Liberalism. General George Kondylis, who engineered the bloodless coup which dissolved the republic and established himself as regent, represents the Fascist school of thought.

Aids For Aid

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Federal agencies were directed today by President Roosevelt to extend immediate relief in the Montana earthquake.

Information at his family home of the new tremors, Mr. Roosevelt directed the Red Cross, the army and the federal relief administration to send representatives immediately to Montana to provide aid and report on conditions.

The President acted on word received by telephone from Washington that many families were homeless in a temperature of 6 degrees below zero and that temporary shelters for victims of recent quakes as well as federal housing facilities for the homeless were endangered.

Sought American Customs

One of the main things the Chinese wanted in their republican revolution of 1911 was to become Westernized and to introduce American and European institutions in a day. They thought it could be done by wearing the caps of the Western world.

3 Earth Shocks Do No Serious Damage

ment as an earthquake were somewhat perturbed for a time because of the severe quakes which have rocked Montana for the past several days doing severe damage there. Whether the movement in the west and that in the east last night have any relation will be determined by scientists.

While earthquakes in the east are not frequent callers and usually are not accompanied by any great amount of damage still there have been several quakes during the past few years. About 10 years ago this section was jarred by a quake which rocked houses and caused pictures to fall and glassware to shatter in the cupboard. At the time the rocking chairs were set rocking and the quake was quite noticeable. The last one of any consequence was earlier in the evening when more people were about.

Many people this morning who felt the quake believed they were experiencing some explosion. A number of years ago when the Lafin and Rand powder plant at Dashville blew up many people believed they were experiencing an earthquake. In fact at that time one enterprising newspaper reporter who had not experienced a real earthquake sent a dispatch to his paper stating that there had been a severe earthquake and being anxious to beat competitors the paper printed the statement, only to find out later that the explosion had been caused by an explosion of a powder mill which took toll of life.

Few people in the mountain sections report having felt the quake last night although it was reported as having been distinctly felt at Phenicia.

That the quake was more severe in the upper portion of the city is born out by reports which come in from various sections. At the Tweedie-McAndrew clothing store on Fair street this morning racks along the wall were found to be shaken loose and out of line.

County Clerk James Simpson at Phenicia was awakened by the movement of the earth and arose to ascertain the cause. He put in a call for Deputy County Clerk Charles O'Connor who lives on West Chestnut street but Mr. O'Connor reported he had not felt the tremor here.

At 1 o'clock this morning Officer James Burns reported from the police box at Hasbrouck avenue and Murray street. He was accompanied by a Freeman reporter. The reporter continued on home and felt nothing of the quake in that section of the city and knew nothing of it until this morning when people inquired whether he had felt a quake.

Followed Paths

The tremor that shook the city, however, seemed to follow a path through the city for certain sections reported no quake felt. On West Chestnut street residents there reported this morning that the first indication they had of the visitation was when they received telephone calls from friends if they had felt the shock.

At the city hall the police were on duty in police headquarters and had settled back in their chairs to enjoy a quiet night following the Halloween celebration that had kept the police department on the jump from early evening until midnight.

The hands of the clock in police headquarters pointed to 1:07 o'clock this morning when the telephone bell suddenly rang. The man on the desk picked up the phone. A resident of Albany avenue had called and was excitedly asking where the explosion was. The one who telephoned said that his house had been badly shaken by the shock.

The officer on the desk replied that no shock had been felt at the city hall, and that no report had been received of an explosion. From then on for the next half hour the telephone rang constantly as residents all over the city began calling in to ascertain what had happened.

Many Old Stories.

Many old stories were told of the quake this morning by residents in various sections of the city. A woman residing on Smith avenue said that she was awakened from sound sleep when her bed began to rock back and forth. She was accustomed to a slight jar of the bed by passing trains, but this was unusual and much more severe. She said that her bed shook violently for fully a minute and then it appeared as if everything loose in the attic above her bed room was being moved about.

Another resident of that street was also awakened and found that pictures on the wall were moving and chairs were being shaken back and forth and thought at first that there was a burglar in the attic.

On Hanratty street the shock was so severe that in some of the houses the awakened residents ran out into the street.

End of a Party.

On Downs street in one house, the occupants had not gone to bed as they had been enjoying Halloween festivities and sat around the dining room table talking over the events of the evening when suddenly the chairs they were sitting on began to rock back and forth and the table moved backward and forward while the pictures on the wall appeared to be dancing a crazy jig.

They said that the tremors were accompanied by a roaring sound and one woman said that after the rocking had ceased that it made her head feel queer. She said that following the heavy rocking movement that lasted fully a minute or more there was still another tremor that was slighter and did not last as long as the first heavy shock.

Clocks Stopped at 1:02

Downtown a resident fired the time of the tremor at 1:02 o'clock because the clocks in the house had stopped at that hour.

Nightwatchman Charles J. Messenger on duty in the downtown business district reported that there was a heavy shock at 1:05 o'clock that shook the brick Cornell building at the foot of Broadway on Perry street so hard that it caused plaster to fall.

While the shock was distinctly felt downtown and in the central and upper sections of the city residents of Landerman avenue and vicinity said this morning the first they heard of the earthquake was this morning when they met other people on the street who asked if they had been awakened by the tremors.

On South Manor avenue the shock was so severe at one house that a furniture was rocked out of bed as the furniture shook violently.

In some sections of the city the children were awakened as their beds shook violently and they began to cry, so frightened were they by the tremors.

What Membership in Red Cross Does to Help In Disaster Relief

(Contributed)

The year ending June 30, 1935, was a busy one for the Red Cross. Through several months of this period relief activities were in operation in more localities than at any other time in the peace-time history of the organization. Spectacular service was rendered in many of these disasters because of the uniqueness of the problems and the far-flung points affected.

In Nome, Alaska, sufferers in a large fire were aided—survivors from the ill-fated Morro Castle found the Red Cross awaiting them when they were brought ashore in New Jersey and New York, the great dust storms of the Midwest furnished a grave problem to be met by the Red Cross from a health standpoint.

Early in July of this year successive cloudbursts brought about unheard-of flood conditions in the southern section of New York state. Many towns were so quickly inundated that the residents had no chance to escape the rush of waters or remove their belongings to places of safety. A total of 43 persons lost their lives. More than 1,000 homes were either damaged or totally ruined. There were approximately 3,300 families needing Red Cross assistance.

Before the rains had ceased falling—less than 24 hours after the crisis in the flood had been reached—representatives of the National Headquarters were on the scene, having been flown to the distressed area by the Army Air Corps. Earlier, throughout the few hours when everything seemed hopeless, local officials and members of the Red Cross chapters had been rescuing families, feeding rescue parties, gathering up the refugees—thousands of them—and getting them to shelter and food. In this work they had been greatly aided by members of the American Legion, boys from C. C. Camps Veterans of Foreign Wars and many other cooperating organizations.

Before the flood waters had subsided, more than 40 trained Red Cross relief workers were in the flooded zone, rushing them from all sections of the eastern states, on hip-boats, boats automobiles, on foot, and any other possible means of transportation they were out checking up on losses, helping lost members of families together, arranging for permanent feeding centers to be used until homes could be safely entered again, and assisting the civil authorities in restoring public safety and order. Just as they were in scores of disasters in other sections of the country. This was no unusual situation, so far as the Red Cross is concerned but one of the many similar ones arising many times each year.

The roll call from November 11 to 27 enables each and every one to make a contribution which goes for such work as this disaster relief, along with many other types of service equally as beneficial and as important.

1935 Red Cross Poster

Still the Greatest Mother

The compelling appeal of the most famous of Red Cross world war posters has been adapted by the distinguished artist Lawrence Wilbur in the 1935 Red Cross roll call poster.

"The Greatest Mother in the World" was the title given to the original creation of Alberto Earl Foringer, eminent mural artist and illustrator of New York. The poster gave the keynote of the Second war fund drive of the Red Cross and millions of copies were distributed throughout the nation.

Turkey Dinner.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Fair Street Reformed Church will hold its annual turkey dinner on Tuesday, November 5. The menu is as follows: Turkey, mashed potatoes, cranberries, turnips, onions, cabbage salad, celery, wheat and rye bread and apple pie a la mode.

In submitting a design for the 1935 poster, Wilbur, who has painted a number of posters for the Red Cross, placed the shadowy heroic figure of mercy in the background, with the practical Red Cross nurse succoring a sick and wounded child in the foreground. "Still the Greatest Mother" is his title.

The posters are distributed through 3,700 Red Cross chapters and 9,000 branches in an appeal to every man and woman to join as a member during the annual roll call.

No Sparks of Anger.

London, Nov. 1 (AP)—News of anti-British demonstrations in Rome failed to strike any answering sparks of anger today in London. Although the demonstrations followed closely a British protest against Italian press attacks and alleged anti-British propaganda, the press here played down reports that British shops in Rome were forced to close for fear of attacks.

Kingston Needs MARTIN as MAYOR

BURGER as Alderman-at-Large

William B. Martin, candidate for Mayor, and Charles Burger, candidate for Alderman-at-Large, have demonstrated that they recognize that the people of Kingston, in the process of selecting their chief executives, are sick and tired of a continuous All-October catch-as-catch-can, rough-and-tumble political wrestling match with an orchestration of smoke-screen speeches, reckless innuendo and false accusation.

From the standpoint of clean campaigning Mr. Martin and Mr. Burger have set a new high standard and one worthy of the respect of all citizens regardless of their political affiliation.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Burger believe the government of the City of Kingston belongs to the people of the city and they should get credit for its accomplishment. They believe elected officials are employees charged with conscientious fulfillment of the duties of the office for which they are employed and with no especial justification for heralding the fact they have done a day's work for a day's pay.

They believe that through faithful representation of the people and the utilization of the time and efforts of the best obtainable minds on the boards of the city government — the whole-hearted and honest application of each employee, the people of the city are able to direct its destinies and insure its progress.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Burger believe in government by the people through a general participation of the citizens in each phase of the administration of the Charter of the City of Kingston.

They believe the people themselves are entitled to the credit for good government, industrial expansion and constant improvement of their physical property and furthermore are entitled to all credit for relieving unemployment and furnishing necessary relief to those in need.

They come before you, at this time, with a record of honorable citizenship upon which their campaign is based — with experience in the government of the city. They are men with a background of co-operation, co-ordination and progress. They possess every last qualification for the office for which they have been nominated. They make, individually, personal application for this office.

PAY AS YOU GO POLICY??

Among other things, the present administration, legislated into office, not by the voice of the people, but by an Act of the State Legislature, states that it believes in and is working under the "PAY AS YOU GO POLICY", but a glance at the record will show you that the statement is false. During the past two years the present administration has issued $197,000.00 more in bonds than it has paid off in bonds that matured in 1934 and 1935. Here's the record.

	Bonds paid	Bonds issued
1934	$124,000.00	$200,000.00
1935	139,000.00	265,000.00
	$268,000.00	$465,000.00

REDUCING THE TAXES

One way to reduce taxes TEMPORARILY, FOR A YEAR, especially in the year in which a municipal election is held, is too grossly over estimate incoming revenues. Estimating in coming revenues is only judgment, but good sound, honest judgement can be based on prior performance. Glance at the record again and see how the estimated revenues were greatly increased over 1933 by Mayor Walker in 1934 and by Mayor Heiselman in 1935. Here's the record:

ANTICIPATED REVENUES IN THE BUDGET

1933 (Carey)	$126,615.00
1934 (Walker)	$134,160.00
1935 (Heiselman)	$207,212.49

That is one of the ways Mayor Heiselman reduced your taxes this year. The reduction cannot be credited to economy or business methods.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS vs. FEDERAL WORK RELIEF

Another assistance to Mayor Heiselman in reducing the tax rate this year was the Federal and State Government paying the labor on relief projects. Had not the work been done under Federal and State help the Board of Public Works budget would have born the brunt of the burden. Look again at the record and see how the tax rate was kept down by reducing the B. of P. W. appropriation:

1933 (Carey)	$272,810.47
1934 (Walker)	$268,977.00
1935 (Heiselman)	$239,752.04

Taking into consideration just these two items in the budget for 1935 — Anticipated Revenues and Board of Public Works Funds — Mayor Heiselman was able to reduce the amount of money to be raised for municipal purposes by the enormous sum of $113,655.43. That again demonstrates clearly and distinctly that Heiselman's tax rate was obtained by raising less money in 1935 that was required in 1934 and 1933. Again let us remind you that Heiselman's economy did not reduce your taxes, it was because less money had to be raised. With a new and proper co-operation with state and federal authorities the program of raising less money through property taxation will continue.

CHARLES A. BURGER

The present city administration was elected, in part at least, on the definite promise that the CWA and TERA local administrative offices would be conducted by volunteer workers. This promise was made to the people before election day, by the present administration, to support its attack on the cost of $1,200 a month which the offices had cost under Democratic administration non-partisan appointments. What did that definite promise amount to when these offices instead of being reduced to a free-labor basis, increased its cost of operation to SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS A MONTH. Is this "good government?" Is this the kind of political campaigning the intelligent voters of Kingston admire?

Among the many claims of "good government" for Kingston is that of the construction of the East Chester street by-pass which will divert traffic from Broadway and Kingston's up-town business section, which is fed by Broadway, over the hill and through the woods to 9-W, eliminating Kingston's Broadway — one of the widest and straightest city business streets in New York State, when our business houses depend largely on traffic through the city to maintain their establishments. Is it good city government to deprive them of this necessary business? Is this "good city government?"

Promiscuous among the raft of claims of the present administration seeking election — and another of the "credits" reached for is that of providing employment and relief through use of national and state funds. By virtue of laws passed by a Democratic national and state administration the people are entitled to this work and this relief without owing anyone credit for the application of existing laws and provisions for the needy and the unemployed. The people themselves provided for this work and this relief. And while taking credit the present city administration criticizes the national and state administrations. Is this "good government?"

Martin and Burger believe the City of Kingston and the people of Kingston are entitled to a fair and just and needful share of Federal and State funds for work and for relief. They believe that co-operation with the national and state governments are the short way to securing proper recognition. They recognize that it would be their duty as elected officials to secure necessary federal and state funds and would claim no credit for performing the ordinary duties of their office.

They believe in low taxes, economical government, a greater industrial Kingston, and the utilization of every co-operative effort to increase local retail business.

Kingston needs MARTIN as MAYOR - BURGER as Alderman-at-Large: The one sure way to secure their election next Tuesday is to not be satisfied without securing the vote of your neighbor for these candidates.

Astoria Next For Yellow Jackets, Then Bulldogs And Knickerbockers

The Yellow Jackets will have no picnic at the Kingston Fair Grounds Sunday, according to the record and lineup of the Astoria Pros, champions of Long Island in 1933-34 and winners of four straight victories this season.

Four ex-colleagues are on the roster of the Pros and will be here to battle against the Yellow Jackets. They are McCarthy, formerly of Catholic University, Metilinus, former Colgate player, Ruppert, who played with Navy, and Fleming, ex-Fordham gridders.

It is the hope of the Astorians to make it five straight when they buck up against the Wasps, who are just as anxious to win. The locals want to preserve their record, too, which is untarnished, and fortify themselves for two hard games on subsequent Sundays. The Jackets have won five in a row.

Manager Charlie Raible of the Bees has tentative arrangements with the New Rochelle Bulldogs to play them at their Westchester county bowl on Sunday, November 10. On the 17th the Jackets will play the Albany Knickerbockers at Albany.

Raible sent representatives to Albany yesterday to switch the Wasps date to Thanksgiving Day, but Manager Jack Humphrey of the capital city stars said this was impossible. He has the West Point Cavalry booked for the Turkey Day game. Humphrey expects one of the largest crowds of the season when the Yellow Jackets play in Albany.

"I've been trying to get you fellows up here for the past four years," said he to Raible's agents. "We've been hearing a lot about the Yellow Jackets and the Albany sports are anxious to see them."

The New Rochelle and Albany engagements will take the Wasps away from home on two consecutive Sundays. Both games mean a lot to them, however, in the way of nice guarantees and as a build up for next year's schedule which may see the Kingstonians traveling every other Sunday.

No stones will be left unturned in next Sunday's game against the Astorians. "We must beat them," said Manager Raible, "to get ready for these two big dates on the road. We have been going good so far and I think the Yellow Jackets are capable of continuing. This next game of ours ought to bring out some of the best football seen at the fair grounds this fall. Our club always plays heads-up ball and Coach John Miller of the Pros has promised that his gridders will give us a real battle."

Included in the contract with the Astoria team is a clause requiring them to be at the field at 2 p. m., meaning that the game will start promptly at 2:30, the regular time.

K. H. S. Basketball Practice Begins

Last week, a call for basketball candidates was issued at Kingston High School. About 50 boys reported and are now hard at work in the practice sessions.

The team is fortunate in having five letter men back, two forwards and three guards. Ed Bock, captain, and his brother, Charlie, last year's high scorer for the DUSO circuit, will be on hand to cover the forward berths. Lou Glenn, Ed Bahl and "New" Belcher will be veterans of the back court. Alva Bruce, second string center from last season, will be back but will have to fight to get the call from Tommy Malmes, who has the advantage of several inches in height. Other members of last year's squad returning for action are Sunny Banks, Bill Byrne, Milt Cohen, Bob Delano, Phil Fertil, Bill Locke, George Rifenbary, "Sloot" Rowland, Elwood Smith, Jack Schoonmaker and Mike Weiner.

The team started slowly last season, dropping the first five games, one of which was the DUSO opener with Port Jervis. This loss proved to be the deciding margin which gave Port the championship. It gave Port the championship, dropped the team then beat Monticello, dropped a second decision to Poughkeepsie, and then closed the season with six straight victories. If the team can get started sooner this season, they may go places.

This year's team will be managed by Jack Leashy. Mr. Whiston and Mr. Anderson will aid Coach Kias in the drilling of the squad.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Spinning the coin on this week's football schedule.

Ohio State-Notre Dame The football "natural" of the year, a collision between two undefeated and untied arrays a genuine toss-up despite the prevailing odds in Ohio State's favor. The Buckeyes have superior man power but no one ever accused Notre Dame of being short-handed. Well, take Ohio State on the theory that the Buckeyes have the greater scoring strength, the more deceptive attack, and that they lose little by comparison with the Ramblers on defense.

U. C. L. A.-California The far western equivalent of the big fuss at Columbus, a battle of undefeated teams. U. C. L. A. by a whisker.

Picks Dartmouth

Yale-Dartmouth Earl Blais Indians from New Hampshire have the guns to win but they've got to beat the Yale Bowl jinx as well as a strong Eli aggregation. Playing the law of averages, Dartmouth to beat Yale for the first time in history.

Louisiana State-Auburn Those plainmen are plenty tough but L. S. U. gets the nod.

Fordham-Pitt. No eastern team has beaten Pittsburgh since 1928 and doubt is hereby expressed that Fordham can turn the trick.

Michigan-Penn. Michigan out-lucked Columbia a week ago and will take a lot of beating. A ballot for Penn just the same.

Princeton Too Strong

Princeton-Navy That Princeton powerhouse started rolling last Saturday and looks too strong for Navy.

Army-Mississippi State Ralph Sasse has brought north the team that walloped Alabama but the vote here goes to Army.

Harvard-Brown After spending three weeks on defense against Holy Cross, Army and Dartmouth, Harvard ought to get a little practice on offense in this one.

Temple-Michigan State Reserving the right of appeal, Temple, shakily.

Villanova-Detroit: Villanova to reverse last week's result.

Minnesota-Purdue Minnesota, in the face of state signals.

Northwestern-Illinois, Northwestern, on the basis of the Wildcats' fine showing against Minnesota.

Iowa-Indiana All together, Iowa North and South.

Tulane-Colgate Two of the season's prime disappointments meet here. Colgate seems the stronger but the Red Raiders won't like the heat at New Orleans. A hesitating ballot for the North.

Southern Methodist-Texas: The Mustangs of S. M. U. Alabama-Kentucky: Can't see anybody beating Alabama the rest of this season.

Florida-Georgia: Georgia, easily. Georgia Tech-Vanderbilt: Close but Vanderbilt gets the call.

Duke-Tennessee: It's risky picking Duke these days but here goes again.

Should Be Close

North Carolina State-North Carolina: Possibly the South's closest game. A shade for North Carolina.

Missouri-Nebraska: Nebraska to ruin Missouri's undefeated record.

Marquette-Iowa State Marquette, handily.

Stanford-Santa Clara: It hardly seems in the cards for Santa Clara to lose three major games in a row but Stanford is the choice.

Cornell-Columbia: Columbia, New York University-Bucknell: N. Y. U. to protect its perfect record.

Syracuse-Penn State A slender edge, perhaps, for Syracuse.

Carnegie-Duquesne: As close as they come. Duquesne.

Locksmiths' Art Show

in Rouen Museum Exhibit

An unusual museum is situated in this ancient capital of Normandy writes a Rouen, France, United Press correspondent. It is a museum containing specimens of the art of the iron worker and locksmith through the ages.

The collection was started with the acquisition of a few curious keys by a native of Rouen, Jean Louis Le Secq, and then became a life passion with him and with his son Henri, who continued the work after his father's death.

The museum includes primitive and modern instruments, strong boxes with complicated locks, ancient iron work and numerous religious relics. One of the latter is an elaborate key, or statue, surmounted by a cross which hung on a chain from the roof of a church. On it are the words:

"This was given by Charles Le Jeune and Marie Billaud, his wife, both of this city, and for whom a Te Deum shall be played every Sunday as long as the church shall last."

Three large cases of the museum contain only English keys of all kinds, including one which bears the royal monogram and the words "Henry George."

Much of the collection in the museum dates back to the early days when every key belonged to a noble lord, and before he could become a member of his court he had to produce a master key. Because of this fact the key is one of the most important items in the museum.

Navy Levels Guns At Undefeated Princeton Tigers

Although unbeaten thus far this season, Princeton faces a tough foe Saturday in the Navy Tars. Expected to see plenty of action are the four gridders above, all of whom have been prominently mentioned as All-America material. Sandbach has starred consistently in the Tiger backfield, and MacMillan at end while for Navy Schmidt, a ten second man, has been outstanding in the backfield and Robertshaw, the "A" squad captain, a star performer on the line at center. Carnera Favored to Defeat Neusel Tonight

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Primo Carnera, the man mastiff, hoists himself into the Madison Square Garden ring tonight to battle Walter Neusel, the blond German who has yet to be defeated in this country.

Carnera was a 6 to 5 favorite but there was little betting interest in the fight despite the fact 15,000 persons were expected to pay $35,000 to attend.

For Carnera it is a last stand one more experiment to determine whether he should continue as a fighter or retire to Italy and live on his profits.

For Neusel it is an opportunity to obtain a match with Joe Lewis and gain the money, and probably the pain, that such a bout would bring.

Neusel has fought four times in this country, beating King Levinsky, Tommy Loughran and Ray Impellitteri, all in ten rounds and fighting a ten round draw with Nats Brown. He is a swinger and Carnera was figured to hold him off with his long left jab, unless the Italian's two beatings at the hands of Louis and Max Baer have softened him too much.

The supporting card features Tony Galento, 220 pounder from Orange, N. J., whose left hook has a kick like that of a mule, and the clever and straight hitting Eddie Mader of New York.

Tony will have nearly a 40 pound weight advantage but the dopests figured that if Mader could stay either in or outside the arc of that left hand during the early rounds he would thump out a clean-cut decision after the stout boy tired.

The match was scheduled for six rounds.

Huge Drum For Football Stillwater, Oia (AP)—It looks as though it might be the largest bass drum in the world, but Oklahoma A. and M. College claims it is only the largest in the nation. It measures six feet in diameter and a bull hide covers each side. The company which made it told the school the drum was the largest on record. It will be featured at football games.

DYKES AND STREETER WIN IN "P" PING PONG

Andy Dykes and Bert Streeter each won first round matches in the Y. M. C. A. ping pong tournament on Thursday evening there, advancing into the second round.

Dykes took the measure of Pete Schline in beating the "iron mountain" by scores of 21-17 and 21-12. Streeter easily defeated Knute Belcher by scores of 21-8 and 21-6. As this a winners-loosers tournament and so this is only the first round, each will be given a second chance to advance.

Islands of Fiji Archipelago There are 250 islands in the Fiji archipelago, the most important of the Polynesian group, the principal one being Viti Levu, which is 95 miles long and nearly 70 miles across. All the larger islands of the group are volcanic, with hills or mountains rising to a height of from 3,000 to 4,000 feet in the most luxuriant tropical vegetation and with rivers everywhere.

Attains His Goal! An 8-Leaf Clover Philadelphia—Dr. Edward J. G. Ward, orthopedic and plastic surgeon, has secured a rare 8-leaf clover.

Doctor Gward got the treasure which he plans to mount and give to the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia when he goes to the latter city.

He said he had a "millionaire" offer a reward of $1,000 for anyone who could find a 7-leaf clover.

For that reason he is just and happy to Doctor Gward.

RARE MAMMALS ARE SECURED IN TIBET

Expedition Also Discovers New Scientific Data.

Philadelphia, Pa.—New and important scientific data and specimens of rare birds and mammals have been discovered by the Dolan expedition in eastern Tibet, according to Charles M. N. Cadwalader, director of the Academy of Natural Sciences here.

Cadwalader reported that he has re-established communication with Brooke Dolan II and his group after their whereabouts were unknown for months.

Dolan has written to Cadwalader that he and his party have traversed many hundreds of miles through an area never before visited by naturalists.

Once during recent months, Dolan said, he was forced to leave the main party journeying in Sining to obtain official permits for work in remote areas. The route took the scientist through the lands of nomad tribes in the upper Yellow River mountain regions, an area last traversed by foreigners many years ago—and then only with an organized caravan.

A narrow escape from a battle with a marauding band of Ngolok nomads was averted, Dolan notified Cadwalader. He added that for nine days the small party was lost with a meager food supply.

The experience had a good point, however, Dolan wrote. He said it gave the party an opportunity to study animal and bird life in the area and an excellent view was obtained of the peak Annyi Machen, which, contrary to previous observers, Dolan judged to be less than 25,000 feet in height.

Dolan collected specimens of wild yak, Tibetan antelope, and big horn sheep along the Ussu tributary of the upper Yangtze river in northeastern Tibet. Many other mammals and birds have been collected and prepared for shipment to Philadelphia, Dolan notified the academy.

Buffalo Grass to Reseed Great Plains Advised

Quannah, Texas.—The Great Plains must be reseeded before the dust storm menace can be controlled, in the opinion of Superintendent J. Roy Quinby of the Texas agricultural experiment station here.

Buffalo grass or "running mesquite," native to the plains country, Quinby says, is the ideal plant.

However, Quinby has devised a machine to harvest buffalo grass seed. He characterizes the machine as a "overgrown vacuum cleaner." The seed grows close to the ground and falls as soon as it matures.

In tests Quinby has harvested 80 pounds an acre, he says. One pound will plant an acre of ground effectively.

"Reseeding the Midwest with buffalo grass will lay the dust and keep the farms at home," Quinby declares.

Princess Drops Royal Rights to Wed Salesman

London.—Inheriting her father's disregard for tradition, Princess Ingeborg of Denmark-Stefurt, twenty-four years old, cast aside all hereditary royal privileges at Caxton hall register office in London when she married August Anton Hans Solken, twenty-two years old, a salesman.

Exactly 29 years ago her father, Prince Ederwy, renounced an income of $1,200,000 a year and all his royal privileges to marry the daughter of a German peasant. The secret wedding also Stone Ridge.

Stone Ridge Grange will meet at its regular meeting on Monday, November 4. The lecturer has prepared a special program on "Peace and Good Will." One of the features will be a short talk on the subject by the Rev. August F. Marler of Rosendale. A large attendance is hoped for to share the important thoughts which those on the program have to offer.

The annual election of officers will be held at the next meeting on November 18.

Fourteen members of Patroon Grange were guests at the last meeting on October 24. A short business session was followed by games of card baseball. The Stone Ridge men and the Patroon ladies were on the winning teams. Homemade pumpkin pie with cheese and coffee were served after the exciting contest.

The service and hospitality committee reported a successful card party held on October 10.

FAITH WITH THE DEAD

Laval Says Memory of Dead Requires Work for Peace

Paris, Nov. 1 (AP).—Premier Laval, still insisting "peace will be made" in Africa, was at Geneva today striving to find a way to end the war between Italy and Ethiopia while French families honored their dead.

Thousands flocked to the cemeteries to observe an old custom on All Saints' Day by paying tribute to Frenchmen fallen in battle.

Faced by admittedly discouraging difficulties, Laval left Paris apparently as much imbued with optimism as ever for the eventual success of his peace negotiations.

"The best way to honor the dead is to work to maintain the peace," were his parting words.

On The Radio Day By Day

Time Is Eastern Standard.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary, has been placed on the Saturday afternoon schedule of WABC-CBS for a talk from Geneva. He is expected to discuss the League of Nations and the sanctions against Italy. The 15-minute broadcast will begin at 5 o'clock.

After getting their Saturday football schedule pretty well fixed up, with most of the concentration on the Princeton-Navy game, the networks ripped into it considerably when it began to look as if the Ohio State-Notre Dame would probably be the day's leading attraction.

The result is that three chains, WABC-CBS, WJZ-NBC and WOR-MBS, all will be broadcasting this one game, although WOR-MBS had first announced it would be "exclusive" on that group. WABC-CBS will stick with the Princeton-Navy contest, while WJZ-NBC expects to pick up the end of the Purdue-Minnesota game at approximately 4:30 instead of putting it all on as planned before the decision to take Ohio State-Notre Dame.

SO THAT PARENTS OF YOUNG CHILDREN MAY GO TO CHURCH

Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wurts and Rogers streets, plans to make an addition to its program of religious education. Beginning on Sunday, November 2, a church best school will be established and will be in session at the time of morning worship from 10:45 to 11:15 o'clock. This school is arranged for the convenience of the parents of younger children who so frequently give as a reason for non-attendance upon services the fact that there are small children in the family. Hereforth parents can bring their children to church and leave them in the care of the school until the close of services. The church best school will meet in the primary room, which can be approached from the Rogers street entrance. The schedule of services for the children includes story-telling, hand-work, and songs. The teaching staff consists of Mrs. E. J. Wurts, Mrs. Wurts and Mrs. Wurts. All children who attend will be given a free copy of the Bible. Parents are invited to take advantage of this opportunity.

Presbyterian Men's Club.

The regular monthly meeting of the First Presbyterian Men's Club will be held in the church hall tonight. Visitors are welcomed and promised a friendly and interesting evening. Beside the usual indoor sports of card ball, horseshoe and shuffle-board, the business meeting makes a unique evening of good times among a bunch of real friendly fellows. The refreshments this evening are an extravaganza which the committee felt would be appreciated, even though the strain on the club budget was a little greater. Duane Jones, club president, will call the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. The hall will be open to the church and leave them in the care of the school until the close of services. The church best school will meet in the primary room, which can be approached from the Rogers street entrance. The schedule of services for the children includes story-telling, hand-work, and songs. The teaching staff consists of Mrs. E. J. Wurts, Mrs. Wurts and Mrs. Wurts. All children who attend will be given a free copy of the Bible. Parents are invited to take advantage of this opportunity.

ONE KILLED WHEN GIANT BOMBER CRASHES

Here is all that remained of a huge army experimental bomber, one of the largest planes in the country, after it crashed at Wright Field, Dayton, O., shortly after taking off on a test flight. One officer was killed and several others injured. Army officials, shown inspecting the wreckage, would not allow photographers to make closeup views. (Associated Press Photo)

Strike At Ellenville
Reported Settled

John H. Cole, president of the Central Trade and Labor Council of Kingston visited Ellenville Tuesday night and conferred with the strikers at the Shell Metal Works plant. Early Wednesday morning the officials of the company were called up and it is stated that a temporary agreement was drawn up and signed by both sides to the controversy. Official papers were to be drawn up and signed Thursday.

It is stated that the agreement is practically the same as the one formerly offered, except that there is a five per cent increase in the minimum wage scale and the newly organized union is to be recognized. The minimum wage will be $10 weekly for females and $12.50 for men, based on a 40 hour week, with time and a half for overtime.

The factory is now faced by the fact that most of the orders it had on hand were holiday orders, which were cancelled when news of the strike reached the intending purchasers, leaving the factory with few orders on hand and little prospect of getting anything in the line of holiday orders at this late date.

Donnarumma Tells About "Pep Talk"

Robert A. Donnarumma in a statement today said:

My opponent is under the impression that I received a "pep talk" at Albany recently.

To clarify him, I did attend a luncheon at the governor's mansion, at the invitation of Governor Lehman. Following the luncheon the governor reviewed his program and accomplishments of the past Democratic controlled legislature, the first such body in 22 years.

Who wouldn't get "pepped up" after he reviewed the great accomplishments of the progressive program of the governor.

However, when I first investigated my opponent's record and found that he had not done much to assist the people of Ulster county, but had stood in the path and attempted to obstruct measures which were of help to the people of Ulster county, I obtained by first "pep." And I determined to apply all of that "pep" in informing the people of Ulster county, of my opponent's obviously poor record. Because, I adopt a program which I sincerely believe would be of assistance to the people of Ulster county, my opponent questions me. That program: Lower electric rates, lower license fees for automobiles, old age security, protection for the working man, mortgage relief, and adequate food control for Ulster county, I will fight for, if elected, with all my physical and mental strength.

My opponent ridiculously asserts that Governor Lehman endeavored to deliver the state government to Tammany Hall. My opponent did Tammany a tremendous favor when, against the governor's wishes, he opposed the reapportionment bill. That bill would have reduced the number of Tammany Assemblymen at Albany and would have greatly curtailed the powers of Tammany Hall in New York City. By aligning himself with nine Tammany Hall Assemblymen he assisted in defeating this bill. A Ulster county Republican joining the forces of Tammany Hall to assist them in retaining power.

All that I ask of the voters is to please give me an opportunity to represent them at Albany.

—makes homes
easy to heat

FROM the Johns-Manville laboratories has come an amazing new insulation, a light, fluffy, wool-like substance that is actually blown from rock. It looks like cotton, but is a pure mineral, with all the characteristics of its stony origin—clean, fireproof, vermin-proof, permanent, odorless.

When installed in your attic floor or ceiling, it forms a heat-proof barrier more than 3 inches thick. Results are astounding. Costly heat is kept inside the home, and you can depend on savings of from 20 to 35% on your fuel bills. Furthermore, in the summer, your home

Solid Rock Becomes Wool
From solid rock, Johns-Manville makes an insulation that at last makes homes really livable. Limestone is actually blown into light, fluffy wool and felt into bats that have all the appearance of cotton batting.

will be from 6 to 12 degrees cooler on the hottest days. Experts agree that only thick rock wool will protect homes against heat and cold in a truly scientific way.

Phone us today, and let us tell you how little it will cost to make your home really livable every day in the year. There is no obligation.
